Benson Seeking To Salvage His Soil Bank Deal

Foe of Ike's Farm Polices Vote To End Program This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson returns today to Capitol Hill—this time to salvage what he can of his bobtailed soil bank program.

In a political revolt sparked by foes of the Eisenhower administration's farm policies, the House Wednesday voted 192-187 to kill Benson's yearling plan to subsidize surplus crop reduction this year.

The House action was a blow to the administration's program for reducing farm surpluses. It found Republicans as well as Democrats blaming Benson for what they called waste and mismanagement.

As a witness before the Senate Agriculture Committee Wednesday, the embattled Benson said the entire farm program needs an overhaul. He said government farm aid to farmers will continue to be expensive until surplus production is cut.

• • •

MEANWHILE, a new "two-price" approach was being suggested by Rep. Whitten (D-Miss), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee.

Backed in recent years by the National Grange, this two-price plan would insure farmers of government price supports at 100 per cent of parity for that portion of their crops sold for domestic consumption, with the remainder sold at open market prices with little or no support.

Whitten said today he would introduce a two-price support bill shortly.

Sponsored by Rep. Harrison (D-Va), the soil bank cutoff was presented to the House as a "temporary injunction" against further soil bank spending until Congress can reappraise its value. It would bar any payments after this year.

Ohio members voted 11-7 against the measure. Ohio's vote:

Democrats for: Feighan, Kirwan, Vanik.

Republicans for: Ayers, Hess, Minshall, Schenck.

Democrats against: Polk.

Republicans against: Baumhart, Betts, Bow, Brown, Clevenger, Dennison, Jenkins, McCullough, McGregor, Vorys.

Coupled with a halt to soil bank spending after this year, the House also voted to limit soil bank payments for any signed farmer to $2,500.

• • •

THE SOIL BANK action overshadowed a whopping cut of $272,566,860 in Eisenhower's new money requests for financing operations of the Agriculture Department for fiscal 1958 starting July 1.

The bill as passed appropriated $3,692,889,757 for fiscal 1958 to run the department's regular operations and maintain the farm price support program.

As presented to the House, the bill asked for $701 million to make acreage reserve payments to farmers taking a percentage of their actual cropland out of production. The Soil Bank Act authorized $750 million a year for the four-year life of the program.

As passed, the bill appropriated only $600 million for 1957 acreage reserve soil bank payments, and cut off further payments for 1958 and thereafter. The Appropriations Committee, calling for "gradual elimination" of the soil bank, has recommended a $600 million limit for 1958 and $500 million thereafter.

Cooling Trend Seen For Next 30 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's been a warm spring but the Weather Bureau predicts that temperatures will be cooler than normal over most of the nation during the next 30 days.

The below average temperatures were forecast for all areas except in the northwest and extreme southwest. The Weather Bureau said "this marks a major reversal from the unseasonable warmth which has prevailed over the eastern half of the country during the last 30 days."

As for rain, the bureau predicted that "precipitation is expected to equal or exceed normal over most areas."

Youngstown Siamese Twins Face Surgery

The twins, joined at the abdomen, were born at the hospital April 27 to Mrs. William Freeman of Youngstown.

Ohio on Verge Of Junking Old JP Court Setup

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio appeared on the verge today of junking the justice of th peace system in favor of county courts which would begin to administer rural justice next Jan. 1.

Only a week after the Ohio Supreme Court set aside a 1955 law which took JPs off the traditional fee system and directed that their pay should be set by county commissioners, the House Wednesday passed an emergency bill to abolish JP courts altogether.

If the Senate, by two-thirds vote, adopts the proposed county court system as a substitute for the JP courts, county court judges will be elected in November and take office Jan. 1 in all counties where municipal courts do not have countywide jurisdiction. There would be one judge for each 30,000 population or fraction of that amount with a limit of six judges in a county.

The adoption of a May 29 working session adjournment resolution in the Senate stole some of the thunder from "court day" in the House. Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) said the May 29 final working session with final adjournment June 7 was a compromise between Senate and House leaders. Mechem originally had hoped to quit May 24.

• • •

LENGTHY DEBATE on the county court bill forced the House to postpone until today a vote creating four new municipal courts and expanding the jurisdiction of others.

The House did succeed in passing and sending to the Senate other bills adding one more common pleas judge in each of four counties (Stark, Allen, Franklin and Summit) and increasing from two to three the number of juvenile judges in Cuyahoga County.

The House also passed, 120-6, a bill increasing from two to four the number of dependents a worker may claim in collecting unemployment compensation.

Allowance for dependents is $3 each and the bill provides that a spouse, for the first time, may be claimed as a dependent. The maximum base benefit for an

If JP Courts Abolished, What Happens Here?

If the bill to abolish justice of peace courts, which was passed by the Ohio House of Representatives (97 to 31) Wednesday, is approved by the Senate and signed into law by Gov. C. William O'Neill, some question marks will be hung over Fayette County, at least temporarily.

Both Judge John P. Case of the Common Pleas Court and Judge Robert L. Brubaker of the Probate and Juvenile Courts declined to speculate on what such a law would mean in Fayette County before they had studied the legislation in its final form.

Judge Max G. Dice of the Municipal Court was not immediately available for comment.

There is only one justice of the peace court in Fayette County. It has jurisdiction over only Jefferson Township and Jeffersonville. Clarence Robinson is the justice of the peace and he could not be reached for comment.

The county's remaining nine townships and Washington C. H. are under the jurisdiction of the Washington C. H. Municipal Court.

• • •

IF THE BILL introduced by Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion) is finally enacted into law by the Legislature, county courts would replace the Justice of peace courts. They would be established only in counties in which municipal courts do not have county-wide jurisdiction. In other counties having municipal courts with less than county-wide jurisdiction, the county courts would have jurisdiction only in those areas outside the jurisdiction of municipal courts.

That would raise these questions:

Would a county court be established for Jefferson Township only in Fayette County since that is the only township outside the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court?

If Jefferson Township should come under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court, it would be necessary for the Legislature to amend to existing statue under which the Municipal Court here was established.

If Jefferson Township is to come under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court here, the statue would have to be amended by the Legislature at this session; otherwise it would be two years before the change could be made.

'Fix-It' Man Admits Slaying His Mother

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A burlap bag of human bones was dug up today under a farmhouse where a Cincinnati repairman told police he had buried the dismembered remains of his slain mother.

Sheriff's Deputies Clarence Demoret and Ralph Linn unearthed the bones a few hours after Cincinnati police said the "fix-it" shop owner admitted shooting and cutting up the body of his mother, Mrs. Pearl Hartlage, in Evansville, Ind., Oct. 15, 1954.

Police said Augustus Clifford Watson, 41, confessed orally that he killed his mother in a quarrel over dividing profits of their Evansville filling station.

Watson was pointed out to police by a man who said he recognized him from a picture in a magazine. A story entitled "What Became of Pearl Hartlage?" was in an issue of the magazine, along with a picture of her son.

Watson told detectives that his wife, Mary, and three children, Peter, 8, Juanita, 7, and Janice, 2, knew nothing of the slaying.

Watson, who operated a "fix-it" shop in Cincinnati, was pointed out by Mickey Cosmah, 23, who had read the magazine article and looked at the picture.

Watson told police he and his mother quarreled and "she hit me on the head with a beer bottle and I pulled out the gun."

Watson said his mother seized the pistol and during the struggle it fired, the bullet killing her.

A-Plant Union Ordered To Resume Work

WAVERLY (AP)—Some 1,500 striking members of Local 10-689 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union were ordered back to work today at the Goodyear Atomic Energy plant in nearby Piketon.

The order came from C. A. Romine, president of the local.

Romine said the workers were to return to work at today's 4 p.m. shift.

The union action followed a court order issued Wednesday night by Federal Judge John H. Druffel of Cincinnati. Judge Druffel said a hearing on the order will be held May 24, after the mandatory 10-day waiting period.

His action came only a few hours after President Eisenhower ordered the Justice Department to seek an 80-day court injunction to halt the strike under terms of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Local 10-689 struck May 10 after negotiations over a new contract collapsed. Since then, Goodyear supervisory personnel have been operating the plant.

Eisenhower issued his directive to the Justice Department after concluding that the strike "will imperil the national safety" if permitted to continue.

The union is seeking a 20-cent-an-hour increase for a one-year or a 1½ year contract.

Lanterns Illuminate 'No Lights' Sign

The warning said:

The night passed without anything happening.

British Papers Say H-Bomb Tests Restore Independence

LONDON (AP)—British newspapers declared today Britain's first hydrogen bomb test had restored the nation's independence of the United States and increased its stature as a world power.

Asian nations quickly expressed regret at the blast, exploded Wednesday in the Christmas Island area of the Pacific. But U.S. officials welcomed the news as contributing to Allied strength by making Britain the world's third full-fledged nuclear power, along with Russia and the United States.

Reports from Washington said, however, the British H-blast was considered certain to result in new pressure on both the British and American governments to call off future atomic weapons tests.

Such demands were renewed at once in Japan and Ceylon, where government officials asserted it was regrettable that Britain had gone ahead with the tests in the face of widespread opposition.

The British press generally assumed the test was successful although a terse announcement from the ministry of supply said merely that the "first explosion of a nuclear device in the present series took place." The ministry added that scientific records are being collected "for accurate evaluation" and that a "further statement will be made in due course."

The announcement did not give any details nor pinpoint the site of the explosion in the Christmas Island area 1,400 miles south of Honolulu, saying only the device was exploded at a "high altitude."

Other authoritative sources said the device tested was an H-bomb fired after being dropped from a four-engine Valiant jet bomber.

There was no indication how many more test explosions would be held or when they would be set off. The number has been estimated at from three to five.

Most London editors took the view that possession of the H-bomb will free Britain from so much reliance on the United States and give it a strong role in future world disarmament conferences.

The British government turned down repeated requests to halt the tests, saying they would be conducted at high altitudes and that the fall-out would not create a radiation hazard.

7-State GOP Parley Opens

Cincinnati Is Host To Strategy Powwow

CINCINNATI (AP) — Republican leaders from seven states gathered here today to "sound out grass roots sentiment on political issues of 1957 and 1958."

The meeting is one of a series sponsored by the GOP National Committee, the Republican Congressional Committee and the Republican Senatorial Committee.

GOP officials said they are seeking information to acquaint national leaders with local problems and "guide Republican policy in the local, gubernatorial and congressional sections of 1957 and 1958."

States represented at the meeting here are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin and West Virgina.

Today's sessons were to be devoted to a meeting of finance representatives of the various states and talks by Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana and Rep. Richard Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the GOP congressional committee.

Highlight of Friday's session will be a telephone address to the group by President Eisenhower.

• • •

SECRETARY OF Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson also is to speak at the meeting.

Wednesday night, Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman, predicted that the GOP will have an uphill battle to win control of Congress in 1958.

"We have an exceedingly difficult problem in the Senate," he said. "The Democrats have more sure seats at stake and we have the marginal seats."

Bliss expressed confidence Ohio Republicans would hold their 17 House seats and re-elect Sen. John W. Bricker.

"As it looks now," he said, "we'll hold all we have and there are several districts in Ohio that could be considered marginal. In my judgment there is no district in which Republicans couldn't win with the right candidate, right campaign and proper financing. We never concede any district."

GOP Senator Urges End to Spending Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said today the Eisenhower administration ought to "quit going out looking for things to do for the people" that add to the cost of government.

Goldwater, who has assailed what he called the "splinterized concept" of "modern republicanism," said he agrees generally with President Eisenhower's news conference statement Wednesday that the GOP has to face up to "the needs of the people today, not 1860."

"Nobody argues with that," Goldwater said.

"But it is wrong to go out looking for things to do for people.

"I find no widespread demand, for instance, for federal aid to education, health insurance or even for expanded minimum wage coverage. Those are the things that push up the expenditures."

Goldwater said he thinks these and other programs can be postponed.

Sen. Allott (R-Colo), who usually supports Eisenhower's legislative proposals, said he agrees there is "no clear demonstration of national need" for a school construction program.

News of World in Brief—

Beck Given New Chance to Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dave Beck's unwillingness to talk about his many free-wheeling deals was to get another test this afternoon before Senate rackets probers.

The Teamsters Union chief, who already has refused to answer 150 questions, was scheduled to return before the Senate Rackets Committee to be asked about a score of additional transactions from which he allegedly profited directly or indirectly.

The latest one, developed Wednesday, showed Beck pocketing $8,000 after he missed out on a share of a $71,500 profit that would have been netted if a secret deal had gone through. The real estate deal involved the union's purchage of land on which it later built its national headquarters in Washington.

Beck's $8,000, the testimony showed, came from Nathan Shefferman after the union had paid Shefferman a $12,000 bonus for what amounted to ailing in the bigger deal. He had represented himself as Beck's agent. Shefferman, a Chicago labor - management consultant who worked closely with Beck, had testified earlier he gave Beck the money for many past favors.

Meanwhile, Norman Gessert, a cousin of Beck's wife and one of four witnesses long sought by the committee, was due in Washington today. Gessert was associated with Beck's son Dave Jr., Shefferman and Shefferman's son in the Union Merchandising Co., which witnesses earlier in the week said got a $180,000 profit on sales to the Teamsters Union.

LONDON (AP)—The Labor party today dangled before British voters a new pension plan which would pay a worker half pay — up to about $42 a week — when he retires at 65.

4 Are Injured In Explosion At A-Center

BROOKHAVEN, N. Y. (AP)—Four persons were injured, one seriously, in a chemical explosion Wednesday at Brookhaven National Laboratory—one of the nation's principal atomic research centers.

Immediately after the blast, Dr. Leland Haworth, director of Brookhaven, said no nuclear radiation was involved.

The blast occurred in a building known as the "hot" laboratory to test the use of compounds of bromine and flourine in dissolving unirradiated natural uranium.

The building is adjacent to another structure housing the laboratory's $25 million reactor, which was not damaged.

Thirty-five persons were in the "hot" laboratory, made up of a series of chambers separated by enormously thick doors.

Seriously injured was Richard Johnson, 30, Baldwin, N.Y. He was hospitalized with severe burns of the face, eyes and body.

Haworth said physical damage to the plant was small but that corrosive effects of the acid were yet to be determined, as was the cause of the explosion.

Type of Specialized Medicine Predicted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In 5 or 10 years, the president of the American Osteopathic Assn. predicts, the federal government will be picking up the tab for medical treatment given elderly people.

Dr. Robert D. McCullough of Tulsa, Okla., said that he doesn't think much of the idea, "but that's the trend."

"Socialized medicine — not really good wording since it will be different than in England—will be put into practice in the same way as Social Security at first," he said. "That is, the government will pay the medical bills of all the aged."

River Being Dragged For Body of Man, 32

ZANESVILLE (AP) — Searchers continued dragging the Muskingum River near here today for the body of Edward Gaus, 32, South Zanesville, who drowned Wednesday with his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Gaus McGill, 41, also of South Zanesville. Only 14 GOPsters Back Ike As Senate Cuts Agency Fund

Twenty-three Senate Republicans, including the top four party leaders, joined with 38 Democrats Wednesday night in slashing appropriations for the U. S. Information Agency $53,800,000 under Eisenhower's request.

Eisenhower a few hours earlier had followed up his TV - radio speech Tuesday night with a new defense of his budget at a news conference. He said it would be a "mistake" to cut USIA heavily.

The Senate went on from that 61-15 defeat for the administration to pass by a 77-0 rollcall vote a State-Justice Department money bill slashed a total of $102,564,000 under the Eisenhower budget estimates. It was $714,500 under House allowances. The money is for the fiscal year starting July 1.

• • •

ADOPTED BY voice vote was an amendment, recommended by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader, which would deny use of any USIA funds for any overseas information service in competition with press associations or other private news agencies.

The bill went back to the House for adjustment of differences with a unanimous appropriations subcommittee recommendation that the USIA be turned back to the State Department through separate legislation.

Johnson dominated debate as he got exactly what he asked for in the $563,085,293 bill which allowed USIA $90,200,000.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), assistant GOP floor leader, joined with Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif); Sen. Bridges (NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee; and Sen. Saltonstall (Mass), chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, in supporting the Appropriations Committee recommendation.

In the same bill, the Senate voted the State Department $193,478,243, or $34,236,309 under original requests.

No Warning Given as Gale Lashes Town

Panhandle Community Sees 60 Buildings Damaged During Storm

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP)—A wild, battering tornado whipped through this little west Texas town and vicinity Wednesday night, killed a score of residents, many of them children, and destroyed or damaged 60 or more homes and business places.

The death toll as reported by state police and other sources stood at 20 in late morning, and debris was being searched for possible other victims.

One death, state police reported, occurred at the nearby community of Lone Star.

"We got no warning at all," mourned Elvert Stephens, "it came down on Silverton out of the rainy night without warning. People died without even knowing what happened."

The black funnel destroyed 25 homes, a cotton gin, four granaries and a warehouse and damaged at least 30 other homes. It smashed automobiles, buses and utility lines.

• • •

"THE PEOPLE are numb with shock and terror," said Swisher County Sheriff Darrell Smith. "They can't seem to realize what has happened."

All communication lines and utilities were knocked out.

National Guard units, nurses, doctors, Red Cross helpers and volunteer rescue workers converged here from almost every point in the Panhandle.

Lack of lights, a torrential rain that continued for hours after the tornado struck and unpaved roads hampered rescue work.

When hospitals at Tulia and Lockney were filled and overflowing with injured, ambulances took other victims to Plainview, Floydada, Dimmitt and Amarillo.

Seven persons in one family were killed in two adjoining houses. They were Mr. and Mrs. Virl Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Rance Stephens, and the three Stephens children. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan were the parents of Mrs. Stephens.

Another family was wiped out by the twister. They were Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Rivas and their two children. Mrs. Rivas was an expectant mother.

The roar of the twister awoke many of the residents but struck before they could get to safety.

"I heard a terrible roar. I got up and turned on the light. But a minute later the light went out when the tornado hit," said Shel-

'Knockdown Fight' Seen in California

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—A "once-and-for-all knockdown fight" between Vice President Nixon and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination is brewing, says Nixon's hometown newspaper.

The Whittier News speculates that Knowland, who has announced that he will retire from the Senate in 1958, will run for governor of California as a preliminary step in seeking the GOP presidential nod.

If he does, the paper added, Gov. Goodwin Knight and Nixon would join forces to oppose him, with Knight running for another term as governor. The result will be "an all-time donnybrook among California Republicans."

Hoover Sees Cuts Of $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover said here Wednesday that the government could save around $5 billion a year by adoption of Hoover Commission recommendations on which Congress has not yet acted.

Hoover, who headed two government reorganization commissions in the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, said one of the difficulties in getting the recommendations passed is that a lot of people don't like to see reform and reduction of expenses. He said it would be difficult to find a single agency in the government interested in reform or cutting expenditures.

If JP Courts Abolished, What Happens Here?

If the bill to abolish justice of peace courts, which was passed by the Ohio House of Representatives (97 to 31) Wednesday, is approved by the Senate and signed into law by Gov. C. William O'Neill, some question marks will be hung over Fayette County, at least temporarily.

Both Judge John P. Case of the Common Pleas Court and Judge Robert L. Brubaker of the Probate and Juvenile Courts declined to speculate on what such a law would mean in Fayette County before they had studied the legislation in its final form.

Judge Max G. Dice of the Municipal Court was not immediately available for comment.

There is only one justice of the peace court in Fayette County. It has jurisdiction over only Jefferson Township and Jeffersonville. Clarence Robinson is the justice of the peace and he could not be reached for comment.

The county's remaining nine townships and Washington C. H. are under the jurisdiction of the Washington C. H. Municipal Court.

• • •

IF THE BILL introduced by Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion) is finally enacted into law by the Legislature, county courts would replace the Justice of peace courts. They would be established only in counties in which municipal courts do not have county-wide jurisdiction. In other counties having municipal courts with less than county-wide jurisdiction, the county courts would have jurisdiction only in those areas outside the jurisdiction of municipal courts.

That would raise these questions:

Would a county court be established for Jefferson Township only in Fayette County since that is the only township outside the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court?

If Jefferson Township should come under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court, it would be necessary for the Legislature to amend to existing statue under which the Municipal Court here was established.

If Jefferson Township is to come under the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court here, the statue would have to be amended by the Legislature at this session; otherwise it would be two years before the change could be made.

'Fix-It' Man Admits Slaying His Mother

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A burlap bag of human bones was dug up today under a farmhouse where a Cincinnati repairman told police he had buried the dismembered remains of his slain mother.

Sheriff's Deputies Clarence Demoret and Ralph Linn unearthed the bones a few hours after Cincinnati police said the "fix-it" shop owner admitted shooting and cutting up the body of his mother, Mrs. Pearl Hartlage, in Evansville, Ind., Oct. 15, 1954.

Watson was pointed out to police by a man who said he recognized him from a picture in a magazine. A story entitled "What Became of Pearl Hartlage?" was in an issue of the magazine, along with a picture of her son.

Watson told detectives that his wife, Mary, and three children, Peter, 8, Juanita, 7, and Janice, 2, knew nothing of the slaying.

Watson, who operated a "fix-it" shop in Cincinnati, was pointed out by Mickey Cosmah, 23, who had read the magazine article and looked at the picture.

Watson told police he and his mother quarreled and "she hit me on the head with a beer bottle and I pulled out the gun."

Watson said his mother seized the pistol and during the struggle it fired, the bullet killing her.

A-Plant Union Ordered To Resume Work

WAVERLY (AP)—Some 1,500 striking members of Local 10-689 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union were ordered back to work today at the Goodyear Atomic Energy plant in nearby Piketon.

The order came from C. A. Romine, president of the local.

Romine said the workers were to return to work at today's 4 p.m. shift.

The union action followed a court order issued Wednesday night by Federal Judge John H. Druffel of Cincinnati. Judge Druffel said a hearing on the order will be held May 24, after the mandatory 10-day waiting period.

His action came only a few hours after President Eisenhower ordered the Justice Department to seek an 80-day court injunction to halt the strike under terms of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Local 10-689 struck May 10 after negotiations over a new contract collapsed. Since then, Goodyear supervisory personnel have been operating the plant.

Eisenhower issued his directive to the Justice Department after concluding that the strike "will imperil the national safety" if permitted to continue.

The union is seeking a 20-cent-an-hour increase for a one-year or a 1½ year contract.

Lanterns Illuminate 'No Lights' Sign

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—Five lanterns burned brightly Wednesday night at a barricade on a heavily traveled street so all might read a warning.

The warning said:

The night passed without anything happening.

British Papers Say H-Bomb Tests Restore Independence

LONDON (AP)—British newspapers declared today Britain's first hydrogen bomb test had restored the nation's independence of the United States and increased its stature as a world power.

Asian nations quickly expressed regret at the blast, exploded Wednesday in the Christmas Island area of the Pacific. But U.S. officials welcomed the news as contributing to Allied strength by making Britain the world's third full-fledged nuclear power, along with Russia and the United States.

Reports from Washington said, however, the British H-blast was considered certain to result in new pressure on both the British and American governments to call off future atomic weapons tests.

Such demands were renewed at once in Japan and Ceylon, where government officials asserted it was regrettable that Britain had gone ahead with the tests in the face of widespread opposition.

The British press generally assumed the test was successful although a terse announcement from the ministry of supply said merely that the "first explosion of a nuclear device in the present series took place." The ministry added that scientific records are being collected "for accurate evaluation" and that a "further statement will be made in due course."

The announcement did not give any details nor pinpoint the site of the explosion in the Christmas Island area 1,400 miles south of Honolulu, saying only the device was exploded at a "high altitude."

Other authoritative sources said the device tested was an H-bomb fired after being dropped from a four-engine Valiant jet bomber.

There was no indication how many more test explosions would be held or when they would be set off. The number has been estimated at from three to five.

Most London editors took the view that possession of the H-bomb will free Britain from so much reliance on the United States and give it a strong role in future world disarmament conferences.

The British government turned down repeated requests to halt the tests, saying they would be conducted at high altitudes and that the fall-out would not create a radiation hazard.

7-State GOP Parley Opens

Cincinnati Is Host To Strategy Powwow

CINCINNATI (AP) — Republican leaders from seven states gathered here today to "sound out grass roots sentiment on political issues of 1957 and 1958."

The meeting is one of a series sponsored by the GOP National Committee, the Republican Congressional Committee and the Republican Seratorial Committee.

GOP officials said they are seeking information to acquaint national leaders with local problems and "guide Republican policy in the local, gubernatorial and congressional sections of 1957 and 1958."

States represented at the meeting here are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin and West Virgina.

Today's sessons were to be devoted to a meeting of finance representatives of the various states and talks by Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana and Rep. Richard Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the GOP congressional committee.

Highlight of Friday's session will be a telephone address to the group by President Eisenhower.

• • •

SECRETARY OF Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson also is to speak at the meeting.

Wednesday night, Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman, predicted that the GOP will have an uphill battle to win control of Congress in 1958.

"We have an exceedingly difficult problem in the Senate," he said. "The Democrats have more sure seats at stake and we have the marginal seats."

Bliss expressed confidence Ohio Republicans would hold their 17 House seats and re-elect Sen. John W. Bricker.

"As it looks now," he said, "we'll hold all we have and there are several districts in Ohio that could be considered marginal. In my judgment there is no district in which Republicans couldn't win with the right candidate, right campaign and proper financing. We never concede any district."

GOP Senator Urges End to Spending Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said today the Eisenhower administration ought to "quit going out looking for things to do for the people" that add to the cost of government.

Goldwater, who has assailed what he called the "splinterized concept" of "modern republicanism," said he agrees generally with President Eisenhower's news conference statement Wednesday that the GOP has to face up to "the needs of the people today, not 1860."

"Nobody argues with that," Goldwater said.

"But it is wrong to go out looking for things to do for people.

"I find no widespread demand, for instance, for federal aid to education, health insurance or even for expanded minimum wage coverage. Those are the things that push up the expenditures."

Goldwater said he thinks these and other programs can be postponed.

Sen. Allott (R-Colo), who usually supports Eisenhower's legislative proposals, said he agrees there is "no clear demonstration of national need" for a school construction program.

News of World in Brief—

Beck Given New Chance to Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dave Beck's unwillingness to talk about his many free-wheeling deals was to get another test this afternoon before Senate rackets probers.

The Teamsters Union chief, who already has refused to answer 150 questions, was scheduled to return before the Senate Rackets Committee to be asked about a score of additional transactions from which he allegedly profited directly or indirectly.

The latest one, developed Wednesday, showed Beck pocketing $8,000 after he missed out on a share of a $71,500 profit that would have been netted if a secret deal had gone through. The real estate deal involved the union's purchage of land on which it later built its national headquarters in Washington.

Beck's $8,000, the testimony showed, came from Nathan Shefferman after the union had paid Shefferman a $12,000 bonus for what amounted to ailing in the bigger deal. He had represented himself as Beck's agent. Shefferman, a Chicago labor - management consultant who worked closely with Beck, had testified earlier he gave Beck the money for many past favors.

Meanwhile, Norman Gessert, a cousin of Beck's wife and one of four witnesses long sought by the committee, was due in Washington today. Gessert was associated with Beck's son Dave Jr., Shefferman and Shefferman's son in the Union Merchandising Co., which witnesses earlier in the week said got a $180,000 profit on sales to the Teamster Union.

LONDON (AP)—The Labor party today dangled before British voters a new pension plan which would pay a worker half pay — up to about $42 a week — when he retires at 65.

4 Are Injured In Explosion At A-Center

BROOKHAVEN, N. Y. (AP)—Four persons were injured, one seriously, in a chemical explosion Wednesday at Brookhaven National Laboratory—one of the nation's principal atomic research centers.

Immediately after the blast, Dr. Leland Haworth, director of Brookhaven, said no nuclear radiation was involved.

The blast occurred in a building known as the "hot" laboratory to test the use of compounds of bromine and flourine in dissolving unirradiated natural uranium.

The building is adjacent to another structure housing the laboratory's $25 million reactor, which was not damaged.

Thirty-five persons were in the "hot" laboratory, made up of a series of chambers separated by enormously thick doors.

Seriously injured was Richard Johnson, 30, Baldwin, N.Y. He was hospitalized with severe burns of the face, eyes and body.

Haworth said physical damage to the plant was small but that corrosive effects of the acid were yet to be determined, as was the cause of the explosion.

Type of Specialized Medicine Predicted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In 5 or 10 years, the president of the American Osteopathic Assn. predicts, the federal government will be picking up the tab for medical treatment given elderly people.

Dr. Robert D. McCullough of Tulsa, Okla., said that he doesn't think much of the idea, "but that's the trend."

"Socialized medicine — not really good wording since it will be different than in England—will be put into practice in the same way as Social Security at first," he said. "That is, the government will pay the medical bills of all the aged."

Only 14 GOPsters Back Ike As Senate Cuts Agency Fund

Twenty-three Senate Republicans, including the top four party leaders, joined with 38 Democrats Wednesday night in slashing appropriations for the U. S. Information Agency $53,800,000 under Eisenhower's request.

Eisenhower a few hours earlier had followed up his TV - radio speech Tuesday night with a new defense of his budget at a news conference. He said it would be a "mistake" to cut USIA heavily.

The Senate went on from that 61-15 defeat for the administration to pass by a 77-0 rollcall vote a State-Justice Department money bill slashed a total of $102,564,000 under the Eisenhower budget estimates. It was $714,500 under House allowances. The money is for the fiscal year starting July 1.

• • •

ADOPTED BY voice vote was an amendment, recommended by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader, which would deny use of any USIA funds for any overseas information service in competition with press associations or other private news agencies.

The bill went back to the House for adjustment of differences with a unanimous appropriations subcommittee recommendation that the USIA be turned back to the State Department through separate legislation.

Johnson dominated debate as he got exactly what he asked for in the $563,085,293 bill which allowed USIA $90,200,000.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), assistant GOP floor leader, joined with Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif); Sen. Bridges (NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee; and Sen. Saltonstall (Mass), chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, in supporting the Appropriations Committee recommendation.

In the same bill, the Senate voted the State Department $193,478,243, or $34,236,309 under original requests.

No Warning Given as Gale Lashes Town

Panhandle Community Sees 60 Buildings Damaged During Storm

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP)—A wild, battering tornado whipped through this little west Texas town and vicinity Wednesday night, killed a score of residents, many of them children, and destroyed or damaged 60 or more homes and business places.

The death toll as reported by state police and other sources stood at 20 in late morning, and debris was being searched for possible other victims.

One death, state police reported, occurred at the nearby community of Lone Star.

"We got no warning at all," mourned Elvert Stephens, "it came down on Silverton out of the rainy night without warning. People died without even knowing what happened."

The black funnel destroyed 25 homes, a cotton gin, four granaries and a warehouse and damaged at least 30 other homes. It smashed automobiles, buses and utility lines.

This stricken town of 857 population is in the Texas Panhandle.

• • •

"THE PEOPLE are numb with shock and terror," said Swisher County Sheriff Darrell Smith. "They can't seem to realize what has happened."

All communication lines and utilities were knocked out.

National Guard units, nurses, doctors, Red Cross helpers and volunteer rescue workers converged here from almost every point in the Panhandle.

Lack of lights, a torrential rain that continued for hours after the tornado struck and unpaved roads hampered rescue work.

When hospitals at Tulia and Lockney were filled and overflowing with injured, ambulances took other victims to Plainview, Floydada, Dimmitt and Amarillo.

Seven persons in one family were killed in two adjoining houses. They were Mr. and Mrs. Virl Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Rance Stephens, and the three Stephens children. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan were the parents of Mrs. Stephens.

Another family was wiped out by the twister. They were Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Rivas and their two children. Mrs. Rivas was an expectant mother.

The roar of the twister awoke many of the residents but struck before they could get to safety.

"I heard a terrible roar. I got up and turned on the light. But a minute later the light went out when the tornado hit," said Shel-

'Knockdown Fight' Seen in California

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—A "once-and-for-all knockdown fight" between Vice President Nixon and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination is brewing, says Nixon's hometown newspaper.

The Whittier News speculates that Knowland, who has announced that he will retire from the Senate in 1958, will run for governor of California as a preliminary step in seeking the GOP presidential nod.

If he does, the paper added, Gov. Goodwin Knight and Nixon would join forces to oppose him, with Knight running for another term as governor. The result will be "an all-time donnybrook among California Republicans."

Hoover Sees Cuts Of $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover said here Wednesday that the government could save around $5 billion a year by adoption of Hoover Commission recommendations on which Congress has not yet acted.

Hoover, who headed two government reorganization commissions in the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, said one of the difficulties in getting the recommendations passed is that a lot of people don't like to see reform and reduction of expenses. He said it would be difficult to find a single agency in the government interested in reform or cutting expenditures.

25,000 Kids Due in Carnival

4-Ply Spring Sports Program Coming Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's biggest athletic carnival, with more than 25,000 youngsters competing, pops up this weekend.

On a far-flung front the state's high schools will name qualifiers in the four-ply spring sports program for the annual scholastic championships to be decided May 24-25 at Ohio State's athletic plant.

The Ohio High School Athletic Assn.'s program shows:

Some 700 track teams will meet in district tests Friday or Saturday on 13 different fields, with 21,000 boys seeking spots in the 48th annual state finals;

Golf teams from 195 schools will battle at nine sites for berths in the 31st annual state tourney;

Tennis teams from 107 schools meet in six district tournaments, with the victors going on to the 38th state event;

And 32 baseball teams — 16 in Class AA and 16 in Class A—stage eight regional tournaments to name the state qualifiers for the 30th annual championships.

District track meet sites are Delaware, Uhrichsville, Cleveland, Salem, Canton, Solon, Berea, Bowling Green, Mansfield, Athens, Springfield, Dayton and Cincinnati. Last year Cleveland John Adams and Akron North tied with 19 points for the Class AA title, two ahead of Cleveland East Tech. The Class A laurels went to Xenia Woodrow Wilson with 43 1-5 points to 35 for Cincinnati DePorres.

Golf qualifiers are scheduled at Columbus, St. Clairsville, Cleveland, Ravenna, Toledo, Lima, Athens, Dayton and Cincinnati. Jackie Nicklaus of Upper Arlington won the individual title a year ago with a par 144 for 36 holes, and his team took the four-man title with Youngstown Rayen second. Nicklaus went on to win the Ohio Open championship from the state's top professionals.

Tennis competition in the districts is slated at Columbus, Lakewood, Akron, Bowling Green, Dayton and Cincinnati. The eastern, southeastern and central district aspirants will meet in a single tourney at Columbus, since only a few schools in those areas have tennis teams. Last season's singles title went to William Sprinkel of Cincinnati Walnut Hills, and the doubles were captured by Jim Tenney and John Hill of Ottawa Hills.

Baseball, the biggest competition of them all, is drawing to a close. The 32 teams still in the race for the regional events are the survivors of a starting field of 871 made up of some 21,000 players.

Both of the 1956 champions, Cincinnati Elder in Class AA and Greenhills in Class A, have been eliminated. Regional meets, from which one team will emerge for the state finals, are scheduled in Class AA at Bridgeport, Cleveland, Lima and Cincinnati. The Class A qualifiers are set at Columbus, Kent and Dayton, but Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said he had not been notified of the site for the northwestern regional.

'Outlook' Gets Credit For Its Improvement

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The weekly network television program which has improved most in the past year and now stands as top of its type undoubtedly is "Outlook," the newsfeature show visible on NBC-TV each Sunday.

Intelligence and enterprise have combined to make it a consistently absorbing program. A typical example will be seen on the home screen Sunday when "Outlook" takes cognizance of the third anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court's school integration decision.

"What do you think of in connection with a Supreme Court decision?" asked "Outlook" director Jack Shugrue the other day. "You think of nine men in black robes sitting on a bench. But visually, in the imagery of television, that means nohing, of course."

The important questions, Shugrue went on to say, are how did integration happen and what have been some of its results: But to encompass such complex issues in the span of a half-hour TV program and to make them both informative and absorbing is a difficult problem.

A word Shugrue frequently uses and a journalistic trait "Outlook" constantly displays is "focus," meaning concentration on the human and understandable results of large and complex issues. Thus, on Sunday, "Outlook" is achieving focus on the integration situation by concentrating on the five Negro plaintiffs whose cases were carried to the Supreme Court.

What has happened to them since? To find out, "Outlook" sent reporters and cameramen to Norfolk, Va., Topeka, Kan., Summerton, S. C., Wilmington, Del., and Washington, D. C. What they learned will be seen on the home screen Sunday.

the court on a full-time judge status?

If a county court should be established for Jefferson Township only, would the judge have to be a resident of the township?

* * *

JUSTICES of the peace now have jurisdiction in civil cases up to $300, evictions and misdemeanors. They may fix bond and bind over the grand jury felony cases and may perform marriages for which licenses have been obtained through the Probate Court.

Four municipalities in Fayette County have mayors, but the bill, if enacted into law, would have little effect on them. These would be continued, but their jurisdiction would be limited to handling misdemeanors committed within their municipalities.

Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville Milledgeville and Octa have mayors, but Washington C. H. does not, because it has the city manager form of government.

Mayor Russell Mitchell of Jeffersonville said he could see no likelihood of a change under the proposed law because he handles only misdemeanors anyway.

* * *

WHEN THE Legislature established the Municipal Court for most of Fayette County in 1951, Jefferson Township was not included for two reasons: (1) Its inclusion would have raised area population to the place where a full - time judge would have been required and (2) Jefferson Township had its own justice of peace court then, as now, to handle its minor cases. (Few of the other townships had justices of the peace at that time).

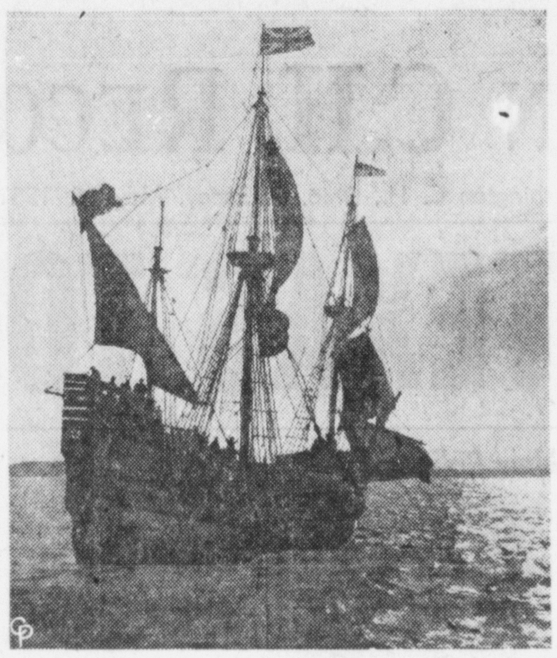

Judge Brubaker was the first judge of the Municipal Court here. He took office Jan. 1, 1952, and served three years before he resigned to become judge of the Probate and Juvenile Courts. He was succeeded by Judge Dice, the present Municipal Court judge.

Under provisions of the proposed law, county judges would be elected to four-year terms and would be paid $1,500 a year each plus 3 cents per capita in their jurisdictions. The limit would be $4,000. Each county would be entitled to one judge for each 30,000 population or fraction of that number.

The Robinson proposal would require that any county court judge elected after Jan. 1, 1963, must be a practicing attorney. The provision would not affect the eligibility for re-election.

individual unemployed worker is $33. Including dependents, the top benefit would go from $39 to $45 a week.

The bill makes no mention of Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB), a management - financed layoff pay system which has been included in some labor contracts in the last three years. An Ohio administrative ruling holds that SUB payments must be deducted from Ohio unemployment benefits.

Rep. Richard Metcalf (R-Franklin) had expected to offer a floor amendment to declare SUB illegal in Ohio, but Republican caucus before the session opposed it, 2-1.

The Senate passed with only one dissenting vote and sent back to the House for concurrence in major amendments a bill which, as it passed the House originally, simply provided a track of three-fourths mile or less could be granted 44 instead of 38 racing dates a year. It was designed, primarily, for the benefit of the Hamilton Raceway at the Butler County fairgrounds. The dissenter was Sen. William Beckett (R-Butler).

* * *

BUT THE SENATE Agriculture Committee decided to make a sort of omnibus racetrack bill out of the measure and wrote into it two big amendments which embody the important parts of two Senate bills which had not been acted upon.

One amendment provided that race tracks which have no competition in their immediate area may be granted 88 instead of 44 racing dates a year. It also provided that racing dates granted to one track may, with the approval of the Racing Commission, be transferred to another track within a 50-mile radius.

Another amendment appeared designed to legalize, without question, the holding of simultaneous running and harness race meetings at different tracks in the same county. The law now prohibits such simultaneous meetings, but the amendment would change the law to prohibit only simultaneous meetings of the "same type" of racing.

Water and silt cascaded into the Peaceful Falley residential section. Cars were trapped fender deep in water and muck.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Flood waters, resulting from overnight rains of up to 12 inches, turned northwest Oklahoma cities into gigantic lakes, forcing a mass evacuation of one town.

The violent gusts, accompanied by heavy rains and hail, blew down tents and damaged valuable precision instruments in them. Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

Denison Is Favored In Tennis Tourney

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Denison is an odds-on choice to successfully defend its Ohio Conference tennis championship here this weekend in the annual tournament.

Only the Heidelberg Student Princes are expected to pass up a chance to knock the Big Red off the throne. Ohio Wesleyan is expected to provide the most serious opposition.

Preliminary matches are scheduled at 2 p.m. Friday, with the finals at the same hour Saturday.

25,000 Kids Due in Carnival

4-Ply Spring Sports Program Coming Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's biggest athletic carnival, with more than 25,000 youngsters competing, pops up this weekend.

On a far-flung front the state's high schools will name qualifiers in the four-ply spring sports program for the annual scholastic championships to be decided May 24-25 at Ohio State's athletic plant.

The Ohio High School Athletic Assn.'s program shows:

Some 700 track teams will meet in district tests Friday or Saturday on 13 different fields, with 21,000 boys seeking spots in the 48th annual state finals;

Golf teams from 195 schools will battle at nine sites for berths in the 31st annual state tourney;

Tennis teams from 107 schools meet in six district tournaments, with the victors going on to the 38th state event;

And 32 baseball teams — 16 in Class AA and 16 in Class A—stage eight regional tournaments to name the state qualifiers for the 30th annual championships.

District track meet sites are Delaware, Uhrichsville, Cleveland, Salem, Canton, Solon, Berea, Bowling Green, Mansfield, Athens, Springfield, Dayton and Cincinnati. Last year Cleveland John Adams and Akron North tied with 19 points for the Class AA title, two ahead of Cleveland East Tech. The Class A laurels went to Xenia Woodrow Wilson with 43 1-5 points to 35 for Cincinnati DePorres.

Golf qualifiers are scheduled at Columbus, St. Clairsville, Cleveland, Ravenna, Toledo, Lima, Athens, Dayton and Cincinnati. Jackie Nicklaus of Upper Arlington won the individual title a year ago with a par 144 for 36 holes, and his team took the four-man title with Youngstown Rayen second. Nicklaus went on to win the Ohio Open championship from the state's top professionals.

Tennis competition in the districts is slated at Columbus, Lakewood, Akron, Bowling Green, Dayton and Cincinnati. The eastern, southeastern and central district aspirants will meet in a single tourney at Columbus, since only a few schools in those areas have tennis teams. Last season's singles title went to William Sprinkel of Cincinnati Walnut Hills, and the doubles were captured by Jim Tenney and John Hill of Ottawa Hills.

Baseball, the biggest competition of them all, is drawing to a close. The 32 teams still in the race for the regional events are the survivors of a starting field of 871 made up of some 21,000 players.

Both of the 1956 champions, Cincinnati Elder in Class AA and Greenhills in Class A, have been eliminated. Regional meets, from which one team will emerge for the state finals, are scheduled in Class AA at Bridgeport, Cleveland, Lima and Cincinnati. The Class A qualifiers are set at Columbus, Kent and Dayton, but Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said he had not been notified of the site for the northwestern regional.

Charles Curtis, one-time vice president of the United States, was a descendant of Indian chiefs in the Osage and Kaw tribes.

Newsfeature On TV Hailed

'Outlook' Gets Credit For Its Improvement

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The weekly network television program which has improved most in the past year and now stands as top of its type undoubtedly is "Outlook," the newsfeature show visible on NBC-TV each Sunday.

Intelligence and enterprise have combined to make it a consistently absorbing program. A typical example will be seen on the home screen Sunday when "Outlook" takes cognizance of the third anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court's school integration decision.

"What do you think of in connection with a Supreme Court decision?" asked "Outlook" director Jack Shugrue the other day. "You think of nine men in black robes sitting on a bench. But visually, in the imagery of television, that means nohing, of course."

The important questions, Shugrue went on to say, are how did integration happen and what have been some of its results: But to encompass such complex issues in the span of a half-hour TV program and to make them both informative and absorbing is a difficult problem.

A word Shugrue frequently uses and a journalistic trait "Outlook" constantly displays is "focus," meaning concentration on the human and understandable results of large and complex issues. Thus, on Sunday, "Outlook" is achieving focus on the integration situation by concentrating on the five Negro plaintiffs whose cases were carried to the Supreme Court.

What has happened to them since? To find out, "Outlook" sent reporters and cameramen to Norfolk, Va., Topeka, Kan., Summerton, S. C., Wilmington, Del., and Washington, D. C. What they learned will be seen on the home screen Sunday.

JP Courts Here?

the court on a full-time judge status?

If a county court should be established for Jefferson Township only, would the judge have to be a resident of the township?

* * *

JUSTICES of the peace now have jurisdiction in civil cases up to $300, evictions and misdemeanors. They may fix bond and bind over the grand jury felony cases and may perform marriages for which licenses have been obtained through the Probate Court.

Four municipalities in Fayette County have mayors, but the bill, if enacted into law, would have little effect on them. These would be continued, but their jurisdiction would be limited to handling misdemeanors committed within their municipalities.

Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville Milledgeville and Octa have mayors, but Washington C. H. does not, because it has the city manager form of government.

Mayor Russell Mitchell of Jeffersonville said he could see no likelihood of a change under the proposed law because he handles only misdemeanors anyway.

* * *

WHEN THE Legislature established the Municipal Court for most of Fayette County in 1951, Jefferson Township was not included for two reasons: (1) Its inclusion would have raised area population to the place where a full - time judge would have been required and (2) Jefferson Township had its own justice of peace court then, as now, to handle its minor cases.

(Few of the other townships had justices of the peace at that time).

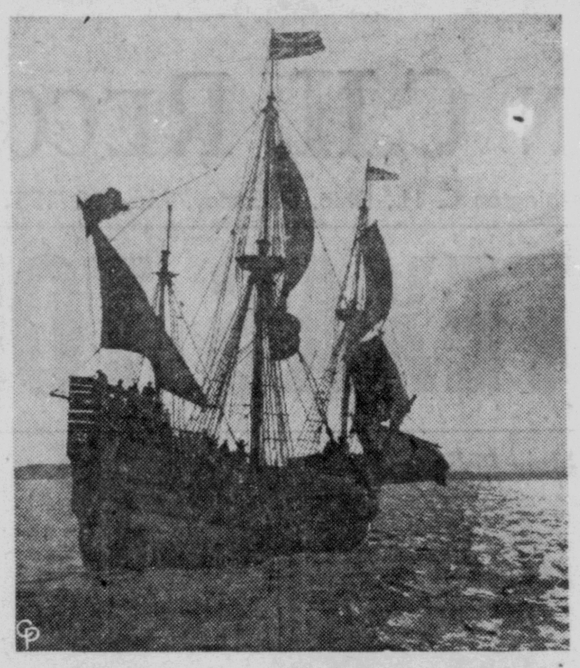

Judge Brubaker was the first judge of the Municipal Court here. He took office Jan. 1, 1952, and served three years before he resigned to become judge of the Probate and Juvenile Courts. He was succeeded by Judge Dice, the present Municipal Court judge.

Under provisions of the proposed law, county judges would be elected to four-year terms and would be paid $1,500 a year each plus 3 cents per capita in their jurisdictions. The limit would be $4,000. Each county would be entitled to one judge for each 30,000 population or fraction of that number.

The Robinson proposal would require that any county court judge elected after Jan. 1, 1963, must be a practicing attorney. The provision would not affect the eligibility for re-election.

Tenth wedding anniversary is, naturally, "the tin anniversary."

4-H Club Activities

READY ROSETTES

The meeting opened by repeating the 4-H Pledge. The treasurer, Linda McCarty, read her report. The secretary, Linda Leeth, gave her report. We answered the roll by naming a color. Then we talked about old and new business.

The group is making scrap books for the hospital. Tea for Mother was served Mother's Day at the Farm Bureau auditorium. It was Shirley Crawford's birthday so the girls sang Happy Birthday to her.

There were two visitors—they were Mrs. Norma Cunningham and Sharon Bruce. Patty Workman and Carolyn Seymour made a funny face salad. Mrs. Cunningham told the girls better ways to make hot pan holders.

The meeting was held at Mary Lou Highfield's home. The next meeting will be at Linda Leeth's May 22, Wednesday evening. Judy Hatfield, Linda Leeth, Mary Kathryn Underwood, and Pam Graves made out the invitations to our mothers. For refreshments, there was kool aid and popcorn. Then for recreation we played records.

Another amendment appeared designed to legalize, without question, the holding of simultaneous running and harness race meetings at different tracks in the same county. The law now prohibits such simultaneous meetings, but the amendment would change the law to prohibit only simultaneous meetings of the "same type" of racing.

One of the Ways Public Funds Are Wasted

Some strange pieces of mail, a lot of which appears worthless, comes out of the more or less bureaucratic state departments at Columbus.

We notice in the comment of one newspaper in Ohio, the charge that the Agricultural Extension Service in Columbus continues to waste taxpayers' money. It mentions the so called rural agency located at Ohio State University which has been in the habit of advising farm wives in every county of the state on how to keep house.

At frequent intervals this agency issues "discussion guides" for use by county Home Demonstration Agents, also many "run of mine" marketing features intended for publication by newspapers over the state. Much of this material is merely wastepaper basket material.

It is cited, for example, that recently an extension specialist in food merchandising— Dr. Theodore W. Leed— poured a chunk of tax money into a three-page historical survey and home demonstration outline of American supermarkets. He concludes that the big chain stores sell an awful lot of food in the United States, and that they are extremely popular with housewives.

Aside from the inherent waste involved in producing a merchandising "study" of so little value, it would seem poor policy to spend public cash to propagandize a private enterprise that gets along very smartly without bureaucratic indorsement.

How would the Extension Service justify a little essay put out by Edith Berry, OSU extension clothing specialist? She spent time and government funds discovering that children's socks wear out quickly if they don't fit, and fade if they are not color-fast.

It is hard telling what can be done to stop production of such trivia. The stuff is distributed in furtherance of Federal Acts of May 8 and June 30, 1914. Perhaps some of the Extension guides and features should be sent to Washington, preferably to Congressmen interested in economy in government, because the same thing is happening down there. Cutting out such things is one way to save public funds, in state and nation.

Success Formula: 80-Hour Week

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—John Bentia, a 39-year-old bachelor who runs a $20 million-a - year business, has figured out a simple formula by which practically anyone can become successful in only 14 hours a day.

There's only one catch in it. You have to spend the 14 hours working.

"I feel strongly that a person of mediocre talent, can, by determination and hard work, be more successful than a brilliant man with less drive," Said Bentia.

"I've seen it happen time after time, and it's a simple matter of mathematics.

"If you work 12 hours a day and the other fellow works eight, every two days you gain a full day on him. the chances are that, even if he is a little smarter than you, he isn't smart enough to overcome the difference that your added hours on the job makes."

Bentia himself puts in 80 hours of work a week, and says he enjoys it.

The son of Romanian immigrants, he sold newspapers at the age of 5, he worked his way through college and then, in 1938 took a $135 a month job as stockboy with the Alliance Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Consolidated Electronics Corp., in Alliance, Ohio, his hometown.

Four years ago he became president of the firm. Last week his steady climb up the ladder of success was recognized by the American Schools and Colleges Association, which voted him an Horatio Alger award. He is the youngest executive ever to receive it.

A pleasant-faced man with an easy manner that cloaks his own Spartan sense of self-discipline, Bentia says there never in history has been a time when it was easier for a man to get ahead—if he faces up to the price.

"There have never been more opportunities—and fewer people really looking for them," he observed.

"Chances for success are greater, simply because more and more men are looking for security rather than competition.

"The quickest way to succeed is to gamble on yourself, to decide what you want, then go after it with everything you have.

"But most people today seem afraid to stick their necks out. They are afraid to take a hammering, but it is only by taking the hammering that you can learn what you have to know.

"They lack confidence in themselves, yet this you must develop and hold on to. They prefer to look for a pleasant job with minimum risks and a safe pension."

The truth, as Bentia sees it, is that most people who say they want to be a success actually are afraid of success and the penalties it imposes. He makes no bones of the fact success does exact a penalty.

But Bentia says being a bachelor isn't one of his career goals; he expects to marry soon. What attribute does he value most in a wife?

"Primarily understanding," he said, smiling. "From what the older boys tell me, it can cause a lot of trouble if you like to work long hours and your wife isn't sympatehtic."

And What Do You Know?

By George Sokolsky

It used to be that a fellow might have to know a dialect or so of Chinese and the difference between an Umayyad and an Abbasid.

But nowadays to be on the ball, he has to know that Elsa Maxwell and the Duchess of Windsor have made their peace and that Pat Boone is a better singer than Elvis Presley or vice versa and that calypso is an ancient custom, descending from the bards, the greatest of whom was undoubtedly Walther von der Vogelweide who hit the spot back in the 12th century when he wandered over Europe.

It used to be that a fellow could memorize the names of the presidents of the United States, but now that a vice president has become a top figure and not a throttlebottom, it is expected that one might know all those who waited for presidents to die and had to wait too long.

And now that the United Nations has 81 members, including Ghana, it is expected of the omniscient journalist that he knows the names, in all languages, of all the blokes who will be forgotten by history two hours after they are overthrown by their equally obscure successors.

It used to be that if a fellow knew the name of the ruler of England, somebody like Queen Victoria, and the Czar of Russia, say, Nicholas II, one was doing very well.

But today one must know the biography of every bum thrown up by revolutions, such figures as Kadar and Tito, to say nothing of Khrushchev and Nasser.

And when one has really learned a new language, such as, for instance, the Marxist Aesopian lingo, the darn fellows change it all around and speak like a Democrat in the days of Horace Greeley and Charles Dana when a gentleman did not spot a lady's furniture with cigarette burns but gained absolute fidelity in the gentle art of spitting directly into a spittoon without soiling the surroundings of that instrument of culture.

It used to be that a fellow could learn how to read notes and if he knew about Beethoven and Brahms and maybe Wagner, he could pass as one possessed of some culture. But nowadays he must know all the Russians from Cesar Cui to Stravinsky to say nothing of Dimitri Tiomkin who passes for a short hair to earn a living in Hollywood.

Also he must know the difference between Copland and Hindemith, to say nothing about the ritualistic efforts of Bloch and the Voodooism of Villa-Lobos which if you can stand it is better than the noisiest rock-n-roll to throw you on a Sunday afternoon in an open concert area.

So, you gotta know just about everything, including the measurement of dames seeking contracts, husbands, lovers or just plain free advertising.

You have to be able to talk to a teen-ager about a dead writer called Fitzgerald who reads like a bore to anyone over 50 and you have to know about a French accident-prone young lady who likes to sound worse than she probably is, but not like Elinor Glyn of our childhood who was a real shocker.

Also you are supposed to know all the plays of O'Neill, a modern playwright. whereas in my day it was enough if one knew something about Shakespeare, Ibsen, Shaw and such ancient writers for the theater as Pinero and Barrie.

I once saw a play by O'Neill and got a headache, but he got a Pulitzer prize which just goes to show what happens when otherwise wholesome journalists go in for being intellectuals.

It was bad enough when money changers became liberals, but now a pseudo-intellectualism is added to liberalism.

A friend of mine who speaks Arabic as he does English, which, after all, is no feat, as he was born in Tennessee and became a missionary to various and sundry countries some of which used Arabic and others Malayan, is not regarded as an intellectual because he does not hold to the doctrine that John Maynard Keynes was the smartest since Karl Marx worked as a stringer for Horace Greeley at $5.00 an article when published.

If that is a test for intellegence or aptitude, then the most educated man in this country is Alger Hiss.

Old Age Pension Lid Removal Postponed

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Finance Committee has indefinitely postponed action on a bill to remove the $65 a month ceiling on old age pensions and make payments on the basis of need.

Chairman J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) said he could see no reason for recommending passage of a bill when there was uncertainty over the estate's ability to finance it.

Cleveland Milkers To Get Higher Price

CLEVELAND (AP)—A decline in the amount of milk received on the Cleveland market has resulted in a more favorable price for the producer, Howard G. Eisaman, federal milk administrator, reports.

Dairy farmers will receive $4.40 a hundredweight for Class I milk shipped in April within individual quotas. In April a year ago, the Class I price was $4.31.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AT A DINNER PARTY, John Gunther, whose "Inside Africa" made best seller lists, was discovered in earnest conversation with Alan Paton, author of the memorable "Cry the Beloved Country." Surprise! surprise! They were talking about Africa!

A rash columnist recalled the anecdote about a squad of telephone men assigned to stretch a new line across a remote district in the Zulu country. A native chief and his advisor watched the operation with vast disdain. "White men idiots," decided the chief. "Put wire so high, livestock can walk right under it."

"And I," added Mr. Paton, "heard that story in Johannesburg when I was a boy of twelve."

"You've gotten my order all mixed up," complained a patron in a delicatessen. "Don't you know the King's English?"

"Well, I'll be darned!" said the waiter. "Is he?"

Apathy Is Cancer's Very Powerful Ally

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Our tendency to minimize and ignore definite but mild symptoms, is one of cancer's most powerful allies.

Like most types of this dread disease, cancer of the digestive tract is usually painless in the early stages.

Since the symptoms are so light and confusing, the average person often feels that they just are not worth bothering about.

Malignant Tumors

As a result, unfortunately. many victims don't seek treatment until it is too late. Malignant tumors in the digestive tract cause nearly half of all cancer deaths. Yet, if treated in time, a number of the victims can be cured.

For this reason. it is important that everyone, especially men over 40, consult a physician quickly upon any indication of trouble, no matter how slight, anywhere from the gullet to the rectum.

Watch For Signs

The American Cancer Society advises that you be especially alert for any of the following symptoms:

1—A slight difficulty or sticking sensation upon swallowing food; a sensation of fullness or heaviness behind the chest bone.

2—Indigestion or a vague uneasiness in the stomach after eating a normal meal; distaste for certain foods, particularly meat; stomach ulcer pains that do not clear up rapidly under a diet prescribed by your doctor. Onset of persistent indigestion after the age of 40 may be expecially serious.

Fatigue or Anemia

3—A vague feeling of lassitude, fatigue, or anemia which is marked by a deficiency of red blood cells. Such a deficiency probably will make your skin a pale color.

4—Changes in bowel movements or habits, either diarrhea or constipation; an explosive quality to the bowel movements; increasing signs of gas.

5—Appearance of blood in the bowel movements or occurrence of black or "tarry" stools.

6—Loss of weight.

One more word of caution. Remember that indigestion and bleeding are the main signs of cancer of the digestive tract. If you have either for more than a few days. see your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. J. S.: I am concerned about an enlarged liver. What treatment do you advise?

Answer: An enlarged liver comes from many causes, such as infection of various types, malaria, typhoid fever, tumors, gallstones or congestion due to poor condition of the heart.

An examination is needed in every case to determine the exact cause for the difficulty. Whether or not the treatment will clear up the condition depends entirely upon what is producing it.

Xavier Plans Awarding 3 Honorary Degrees

CINCINNATI (AP)—Xavier University plans to award honorary doctor of laws degrees to three men at its 119th annual commencement exercises June 5.

The Very Rev. P. L. O'Connor, Xavier president, said the degrees will go to Roger H. Ferger, publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer; Walter S. Schmidt, president of a Cincinnati real estate firm, and the Rev. John LaFarge, associate editor of America, a national Roman Catholic weekly newspaper.

Yacht Is Scuttled By Sunken Ship

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The old battleship San Marcos, originally christened the Texas when launched in 1889 has sunk another ship although she has been at the bottom of Chesapeake since 1911.

A 55-foot yacht, the Moby Dick, snagged on the sunken battleship in rough weather. Yachtsmen headed for a buoy which they thought meant safety but instead it was to mark the wreck. The battleship was sunk in naval gunnery practice 46 years ago.

Some strange pieces of mail, a lot of which appears worthless, comes out of the more or less bureaucratic state departments at Columbus.

We notice in the comment of one newspaper in Ohio, the charge that the Agricultural Extension Service in Columbus continues to waste taxpayers' money. It mentions the so called rural agency located at Ohio State University which has been in the habit of advising farm wives in every county of the state on how to keep house.

At frequent intervals this agency issues "discussion guides" for use by county Home Demonstration Agents, also many "run of mine" marketing features intended for publication by newspapers over the state. Much of this material is merely wastepaper basket material.

It is cited, for example, that recently an extension specialist in food merchandising— Dr. Theodore W. Leed— poured a chunk of tax money into a three-page historical survey and home demonstration outline of American supermarkets. He concludes that the big chain stores sell an awful lot of food in the United States, and that they are extremely popular with housewives.

Aside from the inherent waste involved in producing a merchandising "study" of so little value, it would seem poor policy to spend public cash to propagandize a private enterprise that gets along very smartly without bureaucratic indorsement.

How would the Extension Service justify a little essay put out by Edith Berry, OSU extension clothing specialist? She spent time and government funds discovering that children's socks wear out quickly if they don't fit, and fade if they are not color-fast.

It is hard telling what can be done to stop production of such trivia. The stuff is distributed in furtherance of Federal Acts of May 8 and June 30, 1914. Perhaps some of the Extension guides and features should be sent to Washington, preferably to Congressmen interested in economy in government, because the same thing is happening down there. Cutting out such things is one way to save public funds, in state and nation.

Success Formula: 80-Hour Week

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—John Bentia, a 39-year-old bachelor who runs a $20 million-a-year business, has figured out a simple formula by which practically anyone can become successful in only 14 hours a day.

There's only one catch in it. You have to spend the 14 hours working.

"I feel strongly that a person of mediocre talent, can, by determination and hard work, be more successful than a brilliant man with less drive," Said Bentia.

"I've seen it happen time after time, and it's a simple matter of mathematics.

"If you work 12 hours a day and the other fellow works eight, every two days you gain a full day on him. the chances are that, even if he is a little smarter than you, he isn't smart enough to overcome the difference that your added hours on the job makes."

Bentia himself puts in 80 hours of work a week, and says he enjoys it.

The son of Romanian immigrants, he sold newspapers at the age of 5, he worked his way through college and then, in 1938 took a $135 a month job as stockboy with the Alliance Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Consolidated Electronics Corp., in Alliance, Ohio, his hometown.

Four years ago he became president of the firm. Last week his steady climb up the ladder of success was recognized by the American Schools and Colleges Association, which voted him an Horatio Alger award. He is the youngest executive ever to receive it.

A pleasant-faced man with an easy manner that cloaks his own Spartan sense of self-discipline, Bentia says there never in history has been a time when it was easier for a man to get ahead—if he faces up to the price.

"There have never been more opportunities—and fewer people really looking for them," he observed.

"Chances for success are greater, simply because more and more men are looking for security rather than competition.

"The quickest way to succeed is to gamble on yourself, to decide what you want, then go after it with everything you have.

"But most people today seem afraid to stick their necks out. They are afraid to take a hammering, but it is only by taking the hammering that you can learn what you have to know.

"They lack confidence in themselves, yet this you must develop and hold on to. They prefer to look for a pleasant job with minimum risks and a safe pension."

The truth, as Bentia sees it, is that most people who say they want to be a success actually are afraid of success and the penalties it imposes. He makes no bones of the fact success does exact a penalty.

But Bentia says being a bachelor isn't one of his career goals; he expects to marry soon. What attribute does he value most in a wife?

"Primarily understanding," he said, smiling. "From what the older boys tell me, it can cause a lot of trouble if you like to work long hours and your wife isn't sympatehtic."

And What Do You Know?

By George Sokolsky

It used to be that a fellow might have to know a dialect or so of Chinese and the difference between an Umayyad and an Abbasid.

But nowadays to be on the ball, he has to know that Elsa Maxwell and the Duchess of Windsor have made their peace and that Pat Boone is a better singer than Elvis Presley or vice versa and that calypso is an ancient custom, descending from the bards, the greatest of whom was undoubtedly Walther von der Vogelweide who hit the spot back in the 12th century when he wandered over Europe.

It used to be that a fellow could memorize the names of the presidents of the United States, but now that a vice president has become a top figure and not a throttlebottom, it is expected that one might know all those who waited for presidents to die and had to wait too long.

And now that the United Nations has 81 members, including Ghana, it is expected of the omniscient journalist that he knows the names, in all languages, of all the blokes who will be forgotten by history two hours after they are overthrown by their equally obscure successors.

It used to be that if a fellow knew the name of the ruler of England, somebody like Queen Victoria, and the Czar of Russia, say, Nicholas II, one was doing very well.

But today one must know the biography of every bum thrown up by revolutions, such figures as Kadar and Tito, to say nothing of Khrushchev and Nasser.

And when one has really learned a new language, such as, for instance, the Marxist Aesopian lingo, the darn fellows change it all around and speak like a Democrat in the days of Horace Greeley and Charles Dana when a gentleman did not spot a lady's furniture with cigarette burns but gained absolute fidelity in the gentle art of spitting directly into a spittoon without soiling the surroundings of that instrument of culture.

It used to be that a fellow could learn how to read notes and if he knew about Beethoven and Brahms and maybe Wagner, he could pass as one possessed of some culture. But nowadays he must know all the Russians from Cesar Cui to Stravinsky to say nothing of Dimitri Tiomkin who passes for a short hair to earn a living in Hollywood.

Also he must know the difference between Copland and Hindemith, to say nothing about the ritualistic efforts of Bloch and the Voodooism of Villa-Lobos which if you can stand it is better than the noisiest rock-n-roll to throw you on a Sunday afternoon in an open concert area.

So, you gotta know just about everything, including the measurement of dames seeking contracts, husbands, lovers or just plain free advertising.

You have to be able to talk to a teen-ager about a dead writer called Fitzgerald who reads like a bore to anyone over 50 and you have to know about a French accident-prone young lady who likes to sound worse than she probably is, but not like Elinor Glyn of our childhood who was a real shocker.

Also you are supposed to know all the plays of O'Neill, a modern playwright. whereas in my day it was enough if one knew something about Shakespeare, Ibsen, Shaw and such ancient writers for the theater as Pinero and Barrie.

I once saw a play by O'Neill and got a headache, but he got a Pulitzer prize which just goes to show what happens when otherwise wholesome journalists go in for being intellectuals.

It was bad enough when money changers became liberals, but now a pseudo-intellectualism is added to liberalism.

A friend of mine who speaks Arabic as he does English, which, after all, is no feat, as he was born in Tennessee and became a missionary to various and sundry countries some of which used Arabic and others Malayan, is not regarded as an intellectual because he does not hold to the doctrine that John Maynard Keynes was the smartest since Karl Marx worked as a stringer for Horace Greeley at $5.00 an article when published.

If that is a test for intellegence or aptitude, then the most educated man in this country is Alger Hiss.

Old Age Pension Lid Removal Postponed

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Finance Committee has indefinitely postponed action on a bill to remove the $65 a month ceiling on old age pensions and make payments on the basis of need.

Chairman J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland) said he could see no reason for recommending passage of a bill when there was uncertainty over the estate's ability to finance it.

Cleveland Milkers To Get Higher Price

CLEVELAND (AP)—A decline in the amount of milk received on the Cleveland market has resulted in a more favorable price for the producer, Howard G. Eisaman, federal milk administrator, reports.

Dairy farmers will receive $4.40 a hundredweight for Class I milk shipped in April within individual quotas. In April a year ago, the Class I price was $4.31.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AT A DINNER PARTY, John Gunther, whose "Inside Africa" made best seller lists, was discovered in earnest conversation with Alan Paton, author of the memorable "Cry the Beloved Country." Surprise! surprise! They were talking about Africa!

A rash columnist recalled the anecdote about a squad of telephone men assigned to stretch a new line across a remote district in the Zulu country. A native chief and his advisor watched the operation with vast disdain. "White men idiots," decided the chief. "Put wire so high, livestock can walk right under it."

"And I," added Mr. Paton, "heard that story in Johannesburg when I was a boy of twelve."

Diet and Health

Apathy Is Cancer's Very Powerful Ally

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Our tendency to minimize and ignore definite but mild symptoms, is one of cancer's most powerful allies.

Like most types of this dread disease, cancer of the digestive tract is usually painless in the early stages.

Since the symptoms are so light and confusing, the average person often feels that they just are not worth bothering about.

Malignant Tumors

As a result, unfortunately. many victims don't seek treatment until it is too late. Malignant tumors in the digestive tract cause nearly half of all cancer deaths. Yet, if treated in time, a number of the victims can be cured.

For this reason. it is important that everyone, especially men over 40, consult a physician quickly upon any indication of trouble, no matter how slight, anywhere from the gullet to the rectum.

Watch For Signs

The American Cancer Society advises that you be especially alert for any of the following symptoms:

1—A slight difficulty or sticking sensation upon swallowing food; a sensation of fullness or heaviness behind the chest bone.

2—Indigestion or a vague uneasiness in the stomach after eating a normal meal; distaste for certain foods, particularly meat; stomach ulcer pains that do not clear up rapidly under a diet prescribed by your doctor. Onset of persistent indigestion after the age of 40 may be expecially serious.

Fatigue or Anemia

3—A vague feeling of lassitude, fatigue, or anemia which is marked by a deficiency of red blood cells. Such a deficiency probably will make your skin a pale color.

4—Changes in bowel movements or habits, either diarrhea or constipation; an explosive quality to the bowel movements; increasing signs of gas.

5—Appearance of blood in the bowel movements or occurrence of black or "tarry" stools.

6—Loss of weight.

One more word of caution. Remember that indigestion and bleeding are the main signs of cancer of the digestive tract. If you have either for more than a few days. see your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. J. S.: I am concerned about an enlarged liver. What treatment do you advise?

Answer: An enlarged liver comes from many causes, such as infection of various types, malaria, typhoid fever, tumors, gallstones or congestion due to poor condition of the heart.

An examination is needed in every case to determine the exact cause for the difficulty. Whether or not the treatment will clear up the condition depends entirely upon what is producing it.

FIRST OF SEASON

The first moth of the season, a beautiful swallowtail Luna moth, was brought to me early Tuesday by Herbert Clickner, Columbus Rd.

The Luna is one of the largest native moths, with a wing spread of 3 inches. It is pale green in color, with touches of yellow and purple, and transparent dots, surrounded by light yellow, blue and black on its wings.

The long extension of the wings which form a double tail give it the designation of "swallowtail."

The caterpillar from which the beautiful Luna (moon) moth develops, feeds on leaves of hickory, sassafras, maple, sweet gum and other trees, instead of sticking to one plant or one tree as in the case of many moths and butterflies. The Monarch butterfly caterpillar, for instance, feeds exclusively on milkweeds.

OLD K. OF P. PROGRAM

I have on my desk an interesting old invitation and program issued by Sunflower Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Jeffersonville, a little more than 50 years ago.

The folder pictures a knight and horse, in colors, with the lodge insignia embossed on it, and the invitation reads:

"Sunflower Lodge No. 541, Knights of Pythias, request the presence of yourself and lady at a banquet to be given at Castle Hall, Tuesday evening Feb. 19, 1907, 8 o'clock, Jeffersonville, Ohio."

On the back of the folder is the program for a musical held in connection with the banquet, given by the Ziegler-Howe Orchestra Club, with the performers Franc Ziegler, violin; Charles T. Howe, flute; Mrs. Charles E. Howe, piano, and Jesse Worthington, cornet.

The program included such old time favorites as "Dance of the Cossacks," "So Long Mary," "March des Priotta," and ballet music from Faust etc.

IT WAS SALTED!

You have heard of "salted" gold mines.

There was once a proverbial "gold mine" right here in Washington C. H., but it, too, was salted — and how!

It was some 40 years or more ago that Clarence Baer, who was operating The Washington Ice Co. plant here before the days of modern refrigeration and after a natatorium venture had fallen through, conceived the idea of producing ice cream at the plant of The Washington Ice Co. on Water St.

With him in the venture were C. H. Griffis, then manager of the Cherry Hotel, and Dr. J. F. Dennis, owner of the Cherry.

The new ice cream venture was duly launched and the outlook was very bright with indications the company would produce in huge quantities for distribution throughout this part of Ohio.

It was then the "gold mine" was salted.

The ice cream maker mistook salt for sugar and dumped large amounts of salt into the ice cream.

The blow was struck, and the company was unable to survive the tragedy of salted ice cream, so it quietly folded up, never to reopen.

FEW DUSTY ROADS

Little by little over a period of many years, the work of eliminating the dusty roads of the county has been carried forward by the county and township officials, until today comparatively few of the more important roads are now blacktopped and dustless.

State routes came first as paving wiped out dust (and mud) then the more important county roads followed, after which main township roads receved the blacktop treatment.

I note that this year many miles more of stone road in the county will be blacktopped during the summer.

Abolishing dust is one of the secondary reasons for blacktopping roads, as the topping renders the surface impervious to water and thereby prevents rapid deterioration.

It is no wonder that early motorists all wore "dusters" or long, thin coats which protected their clothing because in those days every automobile threw up clouds of dust on nearly all highways during dry weather, winter and summer.

In fact the old gravel roads, particularly during the late summer and early fall when precipitation was not heavy, became so dusty that it was very disagreeable to travel on them.

In the horse and buggy days, horses kicked up a surprisingly large amount of dust during dry times, and of course the faster moving car really stirred up the two to three inches of powdery material on some of the roads, so that the "paving" was literally blown away a bit at a time.

Inasmuch as the gravel roads contained a great deal of sand, and the stone was pulverized more or less by heavy wagons, the surface of the roads admitted water with every rain, and it was little wonder that during thaws and wet periods some of the roads were cut through from edge to edge, and were impassable to automobiles.

Personal Income Rate Sets Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income last month rose to a record annual rate of $339½ billion.

Reporting this, the Commerce Department said the rate was about $1 billion higher than in March and $18 billion higher than last April's.

The department's office of business economics said a little more than the half of the April increase reflected continued rises in wages and salaries, dividends and interest. Much of the remainder was attributed to higher government payments, particularly with many farm operators drawing social security benefits for the first time.

IT WAS SALTED!

You have heard of "salted" gold mines.

There was once a proverbial "gold mine" right here in Washington C. H., but it, too, was salted — and how!

It was some 40 years or more ago that Clarence Baer, who was operating The Washington Ice Co. plant here before the days of modern refrigeration and after a natatorium venture had fallen through, conceived the idea of producing ice cream at the plant of The Washington Ice Co. on Water St.

With him in the venture were C. H. Griffis, then manager of the Cherry Hotel, and Dr. J. F. Dennis, owner of the Cherry.

The new ice cream venture was duly launched and the outlook was very bright with indications the company would produce in huge quantities for distribution throughout this part of Ohio.

It was then the "gold mine" was salted.

The ice cream maker mistook salt for sugar and dumped large amounts of salt into the ice cream.

The blow was struck, and the company was unable to survive the tragedy of salted ice cream, so it quietly folded up, never to reopen.

FEW DUSTY ROADS

Little by little over a period of many years, the work of eliminating the dusty roads of the county has been carried forward by the county and township officials, until today comparatively few of the more important roads are now blacktopped and dustless.

State routes came first as paving wiped out dust (and mud) then the more important county roads followed, after which main township roads receved the blacktop treatment.

I note that this year many miles more of stone road in the county will be blacktopped during the summer.

Abolishing dust is one of the secondary reasons for blacktopping roads, as the topping renders the surface impervious to water and thereby prevents rapid deterioration.

It is no wonder that early motorists all wore "dusters" or long, thin coats which protected their clothing because in those days every automobile threw up clouds of dust on nearly all highways during dry weather, winter and summer.

In fact the old gravel roads, particularly during the late summer and early fall when precipitation was not heavy, became so dusty that it was very disagreeable to travel on them.

In the horse and buggy days, horses kicked up a surprisingly large amount of dust during dry times, and of course the faster moving car really stirred up the two to three inches of powdery material on some of the roads, so that the "paving" was literally blown away a bit at a time.

Inasmuch as the gravel roads contained a great deal of sand, and the stone was pulverized more or less by heavy wagons, the surface of the roads admitted water with every rain, and it was little wonder that during thaws and wet periods some of the roads were cut through from edge to edge and were impassable to automobiles.

Personal Income Rate Sets Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income last month rose to a record annual rate of $339½ billion.

Reporting this, the Commerce Department said the rate was about $1 billion higher than in March and $18 billion higher than last April's.

The department's office of business economics said a little more than the half of the April increase reflected continued rises in wages and salaries, dividends and interest. Much of the remainder was attributed to higher government payments, particularly with many farm operators drawing social security benefits for the first time.

A Smoke's a Smoke!

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Police smelled clothes burning in the station house and hurriedly made an investigation. They found a prisoner in the jail block, who had no tobacco, rolling his own — with rolled up rags.

Charlotte Scott Engaged to Wed

Mrs. Earl Scott, Leesburg Rd., is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Charlotte, to S-Sgt. Walter E. Baker, son of Mrs. Guy Traylor, of Shumway, Ill., and Mr. Louis Baker, of Tolono, Ill.

Miss Scott is a graduate of Washington High School and Sgt. Baker is stationed at Malstrom Air Force Base in Great Falls, Mont.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Annual Breakfast Honors Graduates

Ten graduating senior girls were the honored guests at the annual breakfast held by the Bloomingburg Y-Teen club in the private dining room at Anderson's Restaurant Monday morning.

Following the invocation by Mrs. Orton Elliott, the seniors, undergraduates, and faculty members enjoyed this last get-together of the year.

Beverly Evans, incoming president of the group, served as toastmistress for a brief program. She welcomed the seniors and presented each one with a corsage from the table centerpieces.

Marilyn Rhoads, outgoing president, responded, and wished the club a successful year. The group also presented a gift to Mrs. Harry Craig, the sponsor.

Mrs. Willard Bitzer, who is presently a member of the Board of Directors of the Ohio District YWCA and was formerly its chairman, gave a brief account of the founding of the organization in 1855 in Boston by a group of wealthy women who were interested in the welfare of the working girls. She described how the group had gradually extended its scope to include work with junior and senior high school girls.

The committee responsible for the breakfast included, in addition to the new president, Cindy Schlichter, Donna Mossbarger, and Kay Heistand. Additional officers for 1957-58 are: Glenna Watkins, vice president, Gloria Clelland, secretary; Cindy Schlichter, treasurer; Nancy Owens, program chairman.

Kensington Club Members Meet At Lynch Home

Mrs. Gordon Lynch entertained nine members of the Bloomingburg Kensington Club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Don Thornton, opened by singing the club hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." The devotional leader, Mrs. Lynch, read a poem entitled, "What I Want Most," along with the 15th chapter of St. John. She then read two articles, "Opportunity Knocks," and "Love Thy Neighbor."

After a short business session the meeting closed with the club benediction.

During the social hour the hostess read an old time menu and asked interesting questions about various subjects. Mrs. Martha Pfeifer entertained with several piano solos.

Mrs. Jean Brown assisted the hostess with the refreshments.

Sandwich bread stuffing between two large fillets of fish, spread the top with butter and bake in a moderate oven until the fish is opaque through and flakes easily. Baste with a little lemon juice.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Clifford Foster, class teacher, and the welcome to mothers was given by Mrs. Naomi Reif, class president. Mrs. Foster wlecomed the daughters and group singing was enjoyed as members of the Grange served the dinner.

Following dinner, Mrs. Martin O'Cull read from the Scriptures, and Mrs. Howard Dellinger gave a Mother's Day reading.

"My Mother" was the topic chosen by the guest speaker, Mrs. Paul H. Elliott.

Group singing followed along with a contest. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. John Glenn, of Bloomingburg.

Congressmen Doe-See-Doe In Bipartisan Hoe Down

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took anothing stronger than a tomato juice cocktail or more complicated than a patty-cake polka to get the congressmen to shed their Capitol Hill worries.

A square dance, arranged by their wives at the Congressional Club, was a new experience for some, but it proved a limbering, frolicsome antidote for taut nerves, and over-burdened brains.

The real business of the evening began with nine squares of four couples each, moving at a vigorous pace with patter and singing calls. Most of the women wore regular square dance costumes, or full-skirted cotton dresses, and many of the men wore bright-colored loose-hanging sports shirts.

J. E. Johnson, who came to Washington from Lincoln, Neb., five years ago to work for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, calls and teaches square dances as a side line. His wife, who assists him, says most of the congressional couples had already been "exposed" to square dancing.

"There's not an area of the country where it isn't popular, especially among the middle-age groups," she explained. "The congressmen really let their hair down. They clapped and had such fun. We wish even more would get interested. It's so relaxing for men whose minds are so active."

Among the dancers were Republican congressmen Clifford McIntire (Me), Robert Harrison (Neb), Fred Schwengel (Ia), John V. Beamer (Ind), Karl Lecompte (Ia), Harold Ostertag (NY) and Phil Weaver (Neb) and their wives.

Democratic congressmen attending were Alfred Sieminski (NJ), John McMillan (SC), Ed Edmonson (Okla), Walter Rogers and Frank Ikard (Tex) and Errett Scrivner (Kan) and their wives.

Friend in Need

COLUMBIA, Ky. (AP)—Meeting a drunk on the street, the Rev. Art Freet proceeded to guide him home.

At his door, the man pleaded with the minister to come inside. He declined.

"Pleash, Reverend," beseeched the drunk. "Just for a minute. I want the wife to see who I been out with."

Wylie Interview Labeled 'Rare'

Mike Wallace Show On TV Is Reviewed

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — That was a rare half-hour of television when Mike Wallace interviewed Philip Wylie on his ABC-TV Sunday evening program.

It was, to begin with, a good idea to select as the subject for Mother's Day Philip Wylie, that excellent American writer who 15 years ago belabored the most obnoxious form of mom in "Generation of Vipers."

Why Wylie was willing to go under the scorching lights is understandable. He's a courageous guy, ever willing to tilt a windmill when no knight in armor is around.

Why Wallace was willing to tackle Wylie is less understandable. Writers make difficult interviews. They're complex people, inclined to be diffuse. The better they are, the more complex they are — and Wylie is one of the best.

The best thing about it was hearing controversial opinions freely expressed on television without fear of the Madison Avenue Mafia. Here, for example, are some of Wylie's opinions:

On birth control — "Why not? We try to control death, don't we?"

On Israel — "I've always opposed building one more righteous group of religionists as a political state. We should have taken them into our country."

On mercy killing — "That's okay."

Ike Books Another TV Talk to Nation

The 30-minute address starting at 7:30 p. m., EST, will be carried "live" on CBS-TV and radio and on the Mutual radio network.

The BAC network will have a delayed radio broadcast at 8:30 p. m. and will carry the talk on TV at 9 p. m.

The NBC - TV and radio networks will carry the address at 10:15 p. m., EST.

Practical Nurse Class Planned in Columbus

COLUMBUS (AP) — The first annual institute for instructors, coordinators and directors of practical nurse training programs will be held at Ohio State University May 22 and 23.

The institute is sponsored by the State Department of Education in cooperation with the university's Department of Education.

Congressmen Doe-See-Doe In Bipartisan Hoe Down

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took anothing stronger than a tomato juice cocktail or more complicated than a patty-cake polka to get the congressmen to shed their Capitol Hill worries.

A square dance, arranged by their wives at the Congressional Club, was a new experience for some, but it proved a limbering, frolicsome antidote for taut nerves, and over-burdened brains.

The real business of the evening began with nine squares of four couples each, moving at a vigorous pace with patter and singing calls. Most of the women wore regular square dance costumes, or full-skirted cotton dresses, and many of the men wore bright-colored loose-hanging sports shirts.

J. E. Johnson, who came to Washington from Lincoln, Neb., five years ago to work for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, calls and teaches square dances as a side line. His wife, who assists him, says most of the congressional couples had already been "exposed" to square dancing.

"There's not an area of the country where it isn't popular, especially among the middle-age groups," she explained. "The congressmen really let their hair down. They clapped and had such fun. We wish even more would get interested. It's so relaxing for men whose minds are so active."

Among the dancers were Republican congressmen Clifford McIntire (Me), Robert Harrison (Neb), Fred Schwengel (Ia), John V. Beamer (Ind), Karl Lecompte (Ia), Harold Ostertag (NY) and Phil Weaver (Neb) and their wives.

Democratic congressmen attending were Alfred Sieminski (NJ), John McMillan (SC), Ed Edmonson (Okla), Walter Rogers and Frank Ikard (Tex) and Errett Scrivner (Kan) and their wives.

Friend in Need

COLUMBIA, Ky. (AP)—Meeting a drunk on the street, the Rev. Art Freet proceeded to guide him home.

At his door, the man pleaded with the minister to come inside. He declined.

"Pleash, Reverend," beseeched the drunk. "Just for a minute. I want the wife to see who I been out with."

Wylie Interview Labeled 'Rare'

Mike Wallace Show On TV Is Reviewed

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — That was a rare half-hour of television when Mike Wallace interviewed Philip Wylie on his ABC-TV Sunday evening program.

It was, to begin with, a good idea to select as the subject for Mother's Day Philip Wylie, that excellent American writer who 15 years ago belabored the most obnoxious form of mom in "Generation of Vipers."

Why Wylie was willing to go under the scorching lights is understandable. He's a courageous guy, ever willing to tilt a windmill when no knight in armor is around.

Why Wallace was willing to tackle Wylie is less understandable. Writers make difficult interviews. They're complex people, inclined to be diffuse. The better they are, the more complex they are — and Wylie is one of the best.

The best thing about it was hearing controversial opinions freely expressed on television without fear of the Madison Avenue Mafia. Here, for example, are some of Wylie's opinions:

On birth control — "Why not? We try to control death, don't we?"

On Israel — "I've always opposed building one more righteous group of religionists as a political state. We should have taken them into our country."

On mercy killing — "That's okay."

Ike Books Another TV Talk to Nation

The BAC network will have a delayed radio broadcast at 8:30 p. m. and will carry the talk on TV at 9 p. m.

The NBC - TV and radio networks will carry the address at 10:15 p. m., EST.

James Beatty Not Guilty of Robbery Charge

Jury Deliberates Only 45 Minutes Before Reporting

James Beatty Jr. was found not guilty of assault with intent to commit robbery by a jury of six men and six women in Common Pleas Court Wednesday afternoon. The jury deliberated only about 45 minutes.

The trial before Judge John M. Kirachofe of Preble County opened at 9 a. m. and in a little more than an hour the jury was seated and sworn in. Only 14 prospective jurors were examined; four were either removed for cause or by preemptory challenge.

Beatty, 27, of 612 Rawlings St., was arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of assault with intent to rob Elias Brown on Feb. 3. He pleaded not guilty and was bound over to grand jury which returned the indictment on which he went to trial Wednesday in Common Pleas Court.

* * *

THE TRIAL moved swiftly once the jury was sworn in. The state had called four witnesses and rested its case at 11:15 a. m. and before the noon recess, two witnesses for the defense had been examined.

Three other defense witnesses, and Beatty, testified at the start of the afternoon session before the case was given to the jury at 2:20 o'clock.

The jury reported its not guilty verdict at 3:05 p. m.

Disease, Not Pain, Gets Treatment

COLUMBUS (AP)—Pain is only a symptom, not a disease, and therefore pain itself does not require treatment, says Dr. Morris J. Nicholson of Boston.

In an address before the Ohio State Medical Assn. Wednesday, Dr. Nicholson said:

"As doctors, our primary approach is not to inject something or to give a pain-relieving drug, but to find what causes the pain.

"Once a person is told her pain is on an organic basis and undergoes an operation, it is extremely difficult to explain to her why the pain persists."

Request Season Tickets Now!

Football and basketball season ticket holders of last season who want to get tickets for the coming year should put their names on file at the school between now and the end of classes, May 24. Ticket Manager Arthur Engle said.

Others, who did not hold season ducats last year but would like to next season, should file requests too, Engle said.

First preference for season tickets for next year goes to last year's holders.

Planning a Vacation Trip? Don't Forget Health Angles

In view of the seasonal planning which most people in Fayette County are now doing in regard to outings or vacation trips they hope to make, Dr. Benton V. Scott, Fayette County health commissioner, today pointed out that food, water or milk available to tourists may sometimes be unsafe.

It is desirable to dine only at eating places displaying a food service license, he suggested. This indicates that the dining spot has been inspected by a public health sanitarian.

* * *

AS TO PICNICS, Dr. Scott advises, "Don't keep food out in the 80-90 degree temperature brackets for long periods. Picnic foods spoil easily and can cause illness.

The health commissioner urges special care for those delicate foods, so popular for picnics, such as potato salads, egg dishes, chopped meats, custards and cream-filled pastries. "Refrigerate them at 50 degrees or less right up until serving time," he says.

Regarding water, he says "don't drink just any water. Be sure it's from an approved source. Better stick to official state roadside parks, or state-approved drinking water spots."

Speaking of milk, Dr. Scott says, "it should be pasteurized and, of course, refrigerated. If you're not sure of the safety of any eating place, water or milk avoid it. Better yet, check with the local health department."

Appeals Court OKs Widow in Insurance Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals has affirmed a lower court action in awarding insurance to the widow of a man who died in the electric chair for murder in Kentucky.

Roy Terrance was electrocuted at the Eddyville, Ky., State Penitentiary on March 18, 1955, for the 1952 slaying of Francis J. McCormack, a Louisville attorney.

After the electrocution, Mrs. Clyda Terrance of Jeffersontown, Ky., the widow, went to court to collect $9,300 insurance from the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. The insurance company had refused payment, standing on a New York law holding that death by lawful execution voided liability for death benefits.

National Guard Unit Enrolls 2 More Men

Two new enlistments were recorded by Company M, Fayette County National Guard unit, last week.

Warrant Officer Robert Goodson announced that Donald E. Wolfe, a farmer of near Washington C. H., and Norman I. Baughn, of 137 Ohio Ave., have enlisted under the program which allows them to take six months of active training, then 5½ years of one-night-a-week duty, to fulfill their service requirement.

Both enlistees under the new program are 22 years old.

* * *

NATIONAL GUARD strength here is steadily approaching 100 men, Goodson announced, observing that the Guard across the nation has burgeoned recently up to 501, 873 men. Present unit strength here is about 90, Goodson said—the highest it has been in several years and new enlistments are expected.

Commenting on the growth of the guard as a whole, Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., said "this is an amazing feat, considering the fact that the Guard started a complete reorganization at the end of World War II."

Approximately 35 per cent of the men in Company M are veterans. Within one year, Goodson said, all of the men will have served some active duty time—either in the regular services or under a National Guard active duty program.

Muskingum College Suspensions Stay

NEW CONCORD (AP)—Two Muskingum College students remained under suspension today despite attempts by some 75 students Wednesday night to have the suspensions lifted.

Dr. Robert N. Montgomery, president of the college, said the students gathered outside his home to protest the suspension of Dave Milburn, 18, and Lorin Stocker, 18, both of Newcomerstown. The two were suspended after they became involved in a fight in a Cambridge Cafe Friday. Milburn was fined $10 and Stocker $5.

Minimum Production For Milk Cows Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any cow that can't produce at least 6,000 pounds of milk in two years ought to be sent to the butchers," J. C. Gorman a Mansfield, Ohio, dairy farmer, told a House agriculture subcommittee hearing Wednesday. "Do that," he said, "and milk surpluses will disappear in two years."

Appeals Court OKs Widow in Insurance Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals has affirmed a lower court action in awarding insurance to the widow of a man who died in the electric chair for murder in Kentucky.

Roy Terrance was electrocuted at the Eddyville, Ky., State Penitentiary on March 18, 1955, for the 1952 slaying of Francis J. McCormack, a Louisville attorney.

After the electrocution, Mrs. Clyda Terrance of Jeffersontown, Ky., the widow, went to court to collect $9,300 insurance from the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. The insurance company had refused payment, standing on a New York law holding that death by lawful execution voided liability for death benefits.

National Guard Unit Enrolls 2 More Men

Two new enlistments were recorded by Company M, Fayette County National Guard unit, last week.

Warrant Officer Robert Goodson announced that Donald E. Wolfe, a farmer of near Washington C. H., and Norman I. Baughn, of 137 Ohio Ave., have enlisted under the program which allows them to take six months of active training, then 5½ years of one-night-a-week duty, to fulfill their service requirement.

Both enlistees under the new program are 22 years old.

• • •

NATIONAL GUARD strength here is steadily approaching 100 men, Goodson announced, observing that the Guard across the nation has burgeoned recently up to 501, 873 men. Present unit strength here is about 90, Goodson said—the highest it has been in several years and new enlistments are expected.

Commenting on the growth of the guard as a whole, Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., said "this is an amazing feat, considering the fact that the Guard started a complete reorganization at the end of World War II."

Approximately 35 per cent of the men in Company M are veterans. Within one year, Goodson said, all of the men will have served some active duty time—either in the regular services or under a National Guard active duty program.

Muskingum College Suspensions Stay

NEW CONCORD (AP)—Two Muskingum College students remained under suspension today despite attempts by some 75 students Wednesday night to have the suspensions lifted.

Dr. Robert N. Montgomery, president of the college, said the students gathered outside his home to protest the suspension of Dave Milburn, 18, and Lorin Stocker, 18, both of Newcomerstown. The two were suspended after they became involved in a fight in a Cambridge Cafe Friday. Milburn was fined $10 and Stocker $5.

DAYTON, OHIO—"I am 27 years old and had been overweight for the past seven years. Nothing helped me until I discovered Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs. O. J. Pugh, 1720 McLain, Dayton, O. "I have lost 48 lbs. and it's nice to have my friends tell me I look wonderful. I feel like a new woman."

Minimum Production For Milk Cows Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any cow that can't produce at least 6,000 pounds of milk in two years ought to be sent to the butchers," J. C. Gorman a Mansfield, Ohio, dairy farmer, told a House agriculture subcommittee hearing Wednesday. "Do that," he said, "and milk surpluses will disappear in two years."

Passengers on some British railways can pay an extra fee of one shilling to ride on trains on which "No Standing" is permitted.

Airlines Seek Penalty

New Advance In Business Activity Seen

Presidential Defense Of Budget Gives Hint On Economy, Belief

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—In defense of his budget President Eisenhower says that big as the spending would be tax revenues would increase even more.

This view should be reassuring to business—painful as continued high tax rates are — because it's based on the belief the current lull in activity is to be mild and short lived.

Only by increased activity in the economy can corporate and individual incomes be boosted enough higher to yield still more tax revenues and thus either balance the budget or give the slight surplus the President predicts.

A clue to the trend in the total of taxable business and personal incomes should be found when the Treasury announces whether the March and April income tax payments came up to expectations.

The bulls and bears in Wall Street have been debating the trend of business activity and the indicated squeeze on corporate profit margins. Many influential industrial leaders have been predicting a new advance in activity late this year. The money managers in Washington have been standing pat on their contention that further inflation is more likely than deflation.

The dollar value of national output of goods and services in the first three months of this year was 6 per cent higher than a year ago. But the Commerce Department points out the fly in that ointment — two thirds of the rise in dollar value was due to higher prices, only one third of the gain could be called an advance in physical volume.

The total of personal income continues to rise, according to the latest figures available—but higher prices chip away a good deal of the real value of that, too, and make tax payments more painful.

Corporate earnings, on average, were about 8 per cent higher in the first three months of this year than in the 1956 first quarter. But the rate of gain has noticeably slowed. And almost half of the companies report a lower net income this year. For many of those on the increased profit side, the profit curve is well below the increasing sales curve.

All of this tends to raise some doubts as to whether tax revenues will rise as much as predicted. If business activity picks up by the end of the year, as now widely predicted, that will help assure the Treasury of a pool of corporate earnings on which to draw.

But if the continuing rise in business operating costs continues to catch up with any gains in sales, the pool of earnings may be smaller than at first thought when the budget was drawn up.

New York Central Opens Research Lab

CLEVELAND (AP) — The New York Central Railroad's president formally opened a $1 million research center here Wednesday. It is equipped to use atomic energy and new discoveries of science to improve the efficiency of the nation's second largest railroad

Portions of the laboratory, largest of its type for any railroad, have been opened during the last year, and its staff includes almost 80 engineers, scientists, chemists and technicians.

Alfred E. Perlman, NYC president, said, "Revolutionary new devices are coming out of this laboratory which will permit us to move trains faster, safer and more economically than ever before."

While Dr. Willis Carrier is credited with the invention of modern air conditioning in 1902, Leonardi da Vinci created a water-driven fan to ventilate the boudoir of his patron's wife about 1500 A. D., 400 years earlier.

Tax Commissioner Upheld on Appeal

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's State Board of Tax Appeals has upheld State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers in a case that could mean millions of dollars in additional tax revenues for Ohio.

The board decided Bowers was "absolutely right" in assessing personal property taxes against the Champion Spark Plug Co. of Toledo.

The company was incorporated outside of Ohio and has plants at Toledo and Cambridge. Its attorneys contended that because it is a foreign corporation, its property is not subject to Ohio taxation.

Mahoning County Coal Project Gets Approval

COLUMBUS (AP)—The East Fairfield Coal Co. got a go ahead from Ohio's Supreme Court Wednesday for a $1 million coal strip mining operation in Mahoning County.

Judges unanimously affirmed lower court decisions enjoining Canfield Twp. trustees from interfering with mining on 135 acres of farm land. Trustees claimed a zoning ordinance prevented the company from mining in an agricultural district.

Actress Claims Marriages To Actors Is Losing Game

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Last week, Lana Turner said she'd never marry again. Now Joanne Dru says she'll never marry — another actor.

The lovely actress recently shed actor John Ireland. Before that, she was wed to singer-actor Dick Haymes. She admitted that marrying actors is a losing game.

"It's seldom possible to be married successfully to an actor unless the wife completely subjects herself to his career," she reasoned. "I've known women who have devoted their lives entirely to their husbands' acting careers and have been happy. But to women who want some life of their own, it's difficult.

"Let's face it: Actors are egotists, they have to be; that's the nature of their work. They are constantly thinking about themselves and selling themselves. That can make them hard to live with."

Actors also have one-track minds, she observed. She recalled how Haymes became intensely interested in horses and devoted his entire time to them for eight months. Then one day he came in from the stable and said he'd had it. He never went near the horses again.

The same thing happened with photography. He was so engrossed in his meters and lenses that she couldn't get a word with him. The hobby blew over and he gave all the equipment away.

Though Haymes has earned huge amounts of money, he has been behind in his support payments for their two children. Likewise the Ireland alliance ended in a financial bust, she indicated.

"I want to get married again," she said, "but I want it to be happy this time. I owe it to my children.

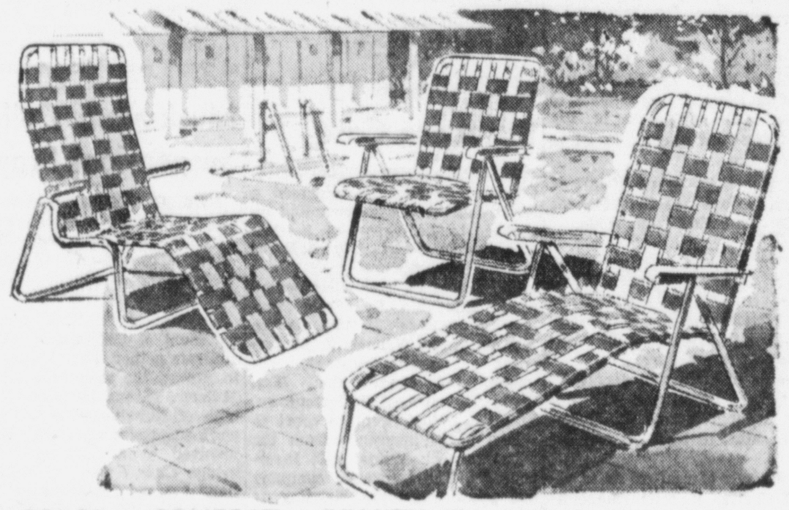

"I think the best kind of husband would be a businessman, someone who is entirely divorced from the movie business. I try not even to date any actors. They can be so charming; it's best to stay away from them."

What about being married to an actress? Doesn't that place strains on a marriage.

Joanne admitted that was true.

'We Have Lost Our Moral Direction'

Billy Graham Starts His Big Crusade Of Spiritual Fire to 'Ignite World'

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham's New York crusade got off to a rousing start Wednesday night. He said it could be the "beginning of a spiritual fire that will sweep this nation and ignite the world."

A crowd of 18,500 filled Madison Square Garden as Graham drummed at the "moral sickness" he said was loose in the land, and pleaded for a change of heart.

"We have lost God," he declared, his voice stern. "We have lost our anchorage, our moorings, our moral direction, our spiritual sensibilities."

At the end of the sermon, when he appealed for those who would "give your life to Christ" to come forward, 485 people came.

He said it was "the largest first-night response I've ever seen from the pulpit in America."

They filed up the aisles, and down from the bunting-draped galleries. They crowded the escalators, moving to the ground floor, and clustered around the speaker's platform, a few of them tearful.

"As you come," Graham said, "many of you are not quite sure what is happening to you. It is a new birth. It is something God does for you supernaturally."

It was a dramatic interval, with the arena lights dimmed, and the choir of 1,500 singing softly, "Just as I am, I come, I come."

At the outset of the service, he expressed belief that the crusade may stir a "spiritual revolution." It is scheduled to last for at least six weeks.

"We need a spiritual revolution in America," he said, "and the place where it could begin is in New York."

A mass of greenery encircled the pulpit-potted ivy, ferns, cedars and other shrubs. Above it stretched a long blue banner, lettered in white: "Jesus, said, 'I am the way, the truth and the life'."

American flags hung from the ceiling.

The crowd began gathering hours before the meeting.

When the doors opened, they jammed the ground-floor chairs, and filled the three tiers above to the eaves, except for a few places high behind the pulpit.

For his sermon, Graham took an Old Testament text, Isaiah 1:1-20, which goes in part:

"Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity . . . They have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel into anger, they are gone backward."

In one verse, "Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah," Graham declared:

"We have done away with the Ten Commandments, with the Sermon on the Mount. Now we are reaping the harvest in dishonesty, lying and hypocrisy."

He said millions of people, frustrated and disillusioned by trying to live without God, are resorting to alcohol and tranquilizing pills and "running up one blind alley after another."

"Psychiatrists are so nervous that they are now going to each other for help," he said.

"The soul is hungering, straining for God, but people throw another aspirin in, and say, 'Be quiet, soul.' "

The answer, he said, can only be found in "an encounter with the living God."

As he spoke, the huge crowd sat hushed, rapt. And when he gave the invitation for new believers to come forward "reverently and quietly," they did so, moving along silently.

There were gray-haired, elderly people, teen-agers and young married couples. All were ushered into a basement auditorium for individual counseling.

"The response was overwhelming," Graham later told a packed roomful of more than 100 reporters. "It was beyond anything I had anticipated."

He said it usually takes several weeks for a crusade to generate the influence to affect people in such numbers.

The first-night audience was made up almost entirely of New Yorkers, although one chartered planeload of people was on hand from Chicago.

About 7,500 seats had been reserved in advance. Delegations from 112 New York area churches were there.

Graham said some strange things have been suggested as to his motives for coming to New York.

"Some have said I want to keep the Republicans in power," he said. "Others have said I want to clean up New York. Still others have said I want to make Baptists out of everybody.

"I have come to New York for the one express purpose of winning men and women to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ."

Ohioan Enters Red China, Police Report

MACAO (AP) — Police today confirmed that a young American missing from Macao since April 27 went from this Portuguese colony to Communist China.

Donald Jackson Blackwood, 25-year-old son of a Cincinnati restaurant owner, disappeared with his Korean wife and their 8-month old son. Authorities here and in neighboring Hong Kong conducted a widespread search for the missing family. The youth's father, James, left Hong Kong Wednesday after flying from the United States to aid in the hunt.

In their first official announcement since the Blackwoods disappeared, Macao police said the American paid a Chinese sampan man $50 to ferry the family to Communist-held Lappa Island.

The sampan returned after the trip the night of April 27 but its owner still is missing.

Police also said a Chinese resident of Macao saw the Blackwoods on Lappa on April 28-29.

There previously had been unconfirmed reports that the family had been seen in Communist-held territory, but the elder Blackwood said before leaving Hong Kong that those accounts were not definite.

Dog Bill Facing Committee Vote

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's controversial dog bill will probably come up for a Senate committee vote today.

The House-approved bill requires dog pounds to offer unwanted dogs for sale to medical groups at least 24 hours before the animals are scheduled to be killed.

Wednesday, the committee adopted two amendments to the House version of the bill.

One would prohibit the sale to medical research groups of licensed dogs delivered by their owners to pounds if the owners specify that the dogs are not to be used for medical research.

The other would require medical groups to keep records for three years of the number and sources of dogs received.

Big Carrier Hits Submerged Object

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The mighty aircraft carrier USS Franklir D. Roosevelt hit somethings submerged off the Florida coast Wednesday.

The skipper, Capt. T. W. Hopkins, reported an oil slick was observed after the collision and "all I know is that we weren't leaking any oil."

He rejected the suggestion of a submarine, however. He said radar and other detection devices would have picked it up.

"It could have been a whale," he said.

Boys Choir Making Plans For Next Fall's Activities

Although its 1956-57 season came to an end only this week the Fayette County Boys Choir already is looking forward to next Sept 17 when the group will conduct tryouts and launch its second year.

It is expected that the size of the choir will be increased then above the average of 30 voices maintained during the first year.

The 1956-57 season closed Tuesday with a "Parents' Night" party held in Fellowship Hall at Grace Methodist Church. Approximately 60 young people and adults attended the affair at which awards were made and preliminary plans were announced for next fall.

Mrs. Robert E. Willis, organizer and director of the group, pointed out that "The boys have done remarkably well; they have accomplished a lot in the first year, and the prospects are bright for next season."

• • •

IT WAS pointed out that the choir has a modest treasury, most of the funds coming from the three public appearances at churches (St. Andrew's, First Christian and Bloomingburg Methodist) where offerings netted $130.

Among those who spoke briefly at the Parents Night party were: Paul Cox, choir president; Rainey Foster, vice president; Philip Sanders, sergeant-at-arms; Stephen Foster, secretary; Mrs. Charles Lutz, choir mother; Louis Baer, treasurer; Mrs. Baer, projects chairman, and Mrs. Willis.

George Garinger is the accompanist.

• • •

THE CHOIR director presented awards for perfect conduct to Roger Whaley and Bobbie McCoy; an award for perfect attendance to Charles Lutz Jr., and another gift to Paul Cox, a graduating senior.

The choir sang "The Three Holy Women," by Gaul; "World Anthem," by Beethoven; the folk song "Come to the Fair;" "You Tell Me Your Dream" and a modern version of "Polly Woly Doodle."

Next year, it was pointed out, the choir hopes to secure a smaller auditorium, since Memorial Hall, where rehearsals were held this year, lacks the necessary accoustical advantages for choir work.

At the same time, plans are being made to increase the size of the group next year.

'We Have Lost Our Moral Direction'

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham's New York crusade got off to a rousing start Wednesday night. He said it could be the "beginning of a spiritual fire that will sweep this nation and ignite the world."

A crowd of 18,500 filled Madison Square Garden as Graham drummed at the "moral sickness" he said was loose in the land, and pleaded for a change of heart.

"We have lost God," he declared, his voice stern. "We have lost our anchorage, our moorings, our moral direction, our spiritual sensibilities."

At the end of the sermon, when he appealed for those who would "give your life to Christ" to come forward, 485 people came.

He said it was "the largest first-night response I've ever seen from the pulpit in America."

They filed up the aisles, and down from the bunting-draped galleries. They crowded the escalators, moving to the ground floor, and clustered around the speaker's platform, a few of them tearful.

"As you come," Graham said, "many of you are not quite sure what is happening to you. It is a new birth. It is something God does for you supernaturally."

It was a dramatic interval, with the arena lights dimmed, and the choir of 1,500 singing softly, "Just as I am, I come, I come."

At the outset of the service, he expressed belief that the crusade may stir a "spiritual revolution." It is scheduled to last for at least six weeks.

"We need a spiritual revolution in America," he said, "and the place where it could begin is in New York."

A mass of greenery encircled the pulpit-potted ivy, ferns, cedars and other shrubs. Above it stretched a long blue banner, lettered in white: "Jesus, said, 'I am the way, the truth and the life'."

American flags hung from the ceiling.

The crowd began gathering hours before the meeting.

When the doors opened, they jammed the ground-floor chairs, and filled the three tiers above to the eaves, except for a few places high behind the pulpit.

For his sermon, Graham took an Old Testament text, Isaiah 1:1-20, which goes in part:

"Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity . . . They have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel into anger, they are gone backward."

In one verse, "Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah," Graham declared:

"We have done away with the Ten Commandments, with the Sermon on the Mount. Now we are reaping the harvest in dishonesty, lying and hypocrisy."

He said millions of people, frustrated and disillusioned by trying to live without God, are resorting to alcohol and tranquilizing pills and "running up one blind alley after another."

"Psychiatrists are so nervous that they are now going to each other for help," he said.

"The soul is hungering, straining for God, but people throw another aspirin in, and say, 'Be quiet, soul.' "

The answer, he said, can only be found in "an encounter with the living God."

As he spoke, the huge crowd sat hushed, rapt. And when he gave the invitation for new believers to come forward "reverently and quietly," they did so, moving along silently.

There were gray-haired, elderly people, teen-agers and young married couples. All were ushered into a basement auditorium for individual counseling.

"The response was overwhelming," Graham later told a packed roomful of more than 100 reporters. "It was beyond anything I had anticipated."

He said it usually takes several weeks for a crusade to generate the influence to affect people in such numbers.

All Major League Outfits Trim Rosters to 25 Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All of the major league baseball clubs were down to the 25-player limit today but it took some scrambling by nine of them to reach the required figure by Wednesday midnight.

With only hours remaining the nine began disposing of their expendables through trades, sales, options and outright releases.

Some of the clubs, however, still carried more than the 25 because under the rules a team is permitted to carry an ex-serviceman for one year without affecting the player limit. Johnny Podres, ace of the Dodger's mound staff, falls in this category. So does Frank Bolling of Detroit, whose service status expires May 28.

National League

Milwaukee—Sent outfielder Wes Covington and pitcher Bob Trowbridge to their Wichita farm in the American Assn. on option.

Cincinnati — Took infielder Rocky Bridges off active list and asked waivers on him. Waiver expires Monday.

St. Louis — Optioned outfielder Jim King to Omaha in American Assn.

American League

Washington—Purchased outfielder Bob Usher from Cleveland. Then sold outfielder Dick Tettelbach and pitcher Dick Brodowski to Indians' farm at San Diego in Pacific Coast League and optioned outfielder Neil Chrisley to Indianapolis and pitcher Garland Shifflett to Charlotte.

Boston—Optioned catcher Heywood Sullivan to Miami of International League.

Cleveland — Optioned infielder Billy Harrell to San Diego in PCL and sold veteran first baseman Preston Ward to same club.

Boo Garback, former major league catcher with the Red Sox, Athletics and Cubs, coaches baseball and basketball and is assistant football coach at Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa.

Babe Ruth League Teams Name New Recruits

City teams in the Babe Ruth Baseball League have each selected the five new 13-year old boys they will add to their squads this season. Top age in the league is 15.

The new boys— a total of 20 on the four teams—were selected after tryouts. Most of them graduated from the Little Major League, where many of them were top players last year.

Selections were announced at a regular Babe Ruth meeting, including representatives from all seven teams in the League. New equipment was purchased at the same session.

Member teams in the league are: Girton's, Bray's, The Insurance Assn., and the Medics, from Washington C.H., along with Good Hope, Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville.

• • •

SELECTED FOR the Girton squad by Manager Donald Graves are Eddie Ellars, Charles Wright, George Naylor, Jim Johnson and Carl Anders.

Manager Martin O'Cull named Ben Garringer, Larry Flowers, Mile Wilson, Doug Bray and John Enochs to spots on the Bray's squad.

Named by Carl Wilt to the Insurance Assn. Seals were Butch Riber Buck Jones, Sam Evans, Billy Haines and Ken Kesner.

New boys on the Medics, selected by Frank Reno, are Ernie Herman, Dale Mathews, John McLean, Jerry Powell and Danny Warner.

New boys for the non-city teams will be announced later. First league game is June 4.

4 Leaf Clovers Bring Both Good, Bad Luck

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Madie Kirby discovered five four-leaf clovers in her home, then went to see the Dallas Eagles play San Antonio in a Texas League baseball game

"I thought the clovers might bring the Eagles luck," she said.

Dallas won the game 2-0, but someone stole Mrs. Kirby's car while she watched.

250 Mph. Boat Record Sought

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald Campbell, 36, who will shoot for a world speedboat record of 250 m.p.h. on upstate New York's Lake Canandaigua this summer, said today he's "no daredevil."

"Basically, I am a very cautious individual," added the dapper, dark-haired Briton, the only man to go 200 m.p.h. on the water and live to tell about it.

The Scottish born speed king said he did not consider the tests he will make in his $70,000, jet-powered Bluebird in any way akin to auto road racing such as the Mille Miglia, which Sunday resulted in death for 13 persons.

Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals set a National Basketball Assn. record during the 1956-57 season by scoring 625 foul shots. The old record was 589 set by Philadelphia's Neil Johnston in 1955.

Redleg, Chisox Hurlers Show High Caliber

Brooks Lawrence, Jim Wilson Make Believers Of Doubting Thomases

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitchers Jim Wilson of the Chicago White Sox and Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs finally are making believers out of the doubting Thomases.

It is strange that Wilson and Lawrence, despite generally effective pitching usually with mediocre ball clubs, rarely have impressed veteran observers.

Wilson, despite 33 victories, including a no-run, no-hit game, during the past three years, was not only traded off by two clubs—Milwaukee and Baltimore — but actually waived out of the National League.

Lawrence, bartered by St. Louis to Cincinnati despite winning 15 games in half a season a couple of years before, did not receive the acclaim he deserved last year when he won 19 games for the third place Redlegs. Although no other Cincinnati pitcher was able to win as many games, experts shrugged off his winning total as "just one of those things." They called him "lucky" because he failed to finish many of his starts.

Lawrence won his fourth game of the season Wednesday night, pitching Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia. The win boosted the Redlegs back into a tie with Milwaukee for the National League lead. The 22-year-old right hander permitted only five hits and fanned 11.

Wilson pitched Chicago to a 5-0 abling the White Sox to retain their first-place lead of half a game over the New York Yankees in the American League. The 35-year-old right-hander yielded only four hits en route to his second successive shuto u t and third of the season. Like Lawrence, his record is 4-1.

Effective pitching by Don Drysdale and Clem Labine and Don Zimmer's 10th-inning home run combined to give Brooklyn a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis defeated the New York Giants 6-5 in 14 innings when Hal Smith singled home Del Ennis from second.

Tom Sturdivant's five-hitter featured the Yankees' 3-0 shutout over Kansas City. Cleveland cracked five singles in the 16th inning off Mike Fornieles to score three times and defeat Baltimore 11-8 in a 4¾-hour marathon that involved 38 players, including 11 pitchers. Boston's Red Sox unleashed a 16-hit attack, their heaviest barrage of the season, to outslug the Detroit Tigers 11-8.

Zimmer's game-winning home run for Brooklyn came off Lew Burdette, who had relieved Milwaukee starter Gene Conley in the eighth. The Dodgers tied the score in that inning. Gil Hodges homered for Brooklyn.

Walt Dropo, Chicago's part-time first baseman, was the big offensive gun as the White Sox won their fourth straight. The big guy slammed his fourth homer in the sixth and singled across a run in the eighth.

All three Yankee runs were scored in the first inning. The victim was Ned Garver, who gave the Yankees only three hits in six innings.

Veteran first baseman Mickey Vernon drove in four runs and Jackie Jensen three in Boston's victory over Detroit. George Susce, third Boston pitcher, was the winner. Frank Lary lost it.

Reds Regain First Place Tie in NL

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are back in a first place tie with Milwaukee as the result of Wednesday night's 7-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

Wednesday night's hero was Brooks Lawrence. The husky right-hander, who some persons persist in calling "lucky", turned in his fourth complete pitching performance. He held the Phils to 5 hits and struck out 11.

Another bright spot in the Redleg picture was the first starting appearance of the year for catch- appearance of the year for catcher Smoky Burgess.

He had been sidelined with an injured ankle but blasted a home run in his first time at bat in a starting role.

Lawrence had a shaky start, as usual. The Phils got a run in the opening inning but that was all they got, though they had the bases filled with none out. After that, Lawrence was superb until the ninth when Ed Bouchee homered.

Meanwhile, the Reds tied the score in the first on a couple of walks and a single by George Crowe. Burgess' homer came in the second and it was followed by a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Johnny Temple for another run.

The Reds got two more in the sixth on a double by Wally Post and singles by Gus Bell, Frank Robinson, and Crowe. Roy McMillan's single, a sacrifice and Post's double scored one in the seventh. The Reds got their final marker in the eighth on a two-base error by Bob Bowman, Crowe's single and a sacrifice fly.

Patterson Ready To Defend Title

Emil Lence, former Brooklyn promoter, has been designated by Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, as the independent promoter to break the International Boxing Club's grip on the heavyweight throne.

D'Amato named Lence as the first of many independents who will be able to use Patterson as he made his formal break with the IBC.

"Patterson will not have one defense, but at least several and not in the New York area alone," said D'Amato Wednesday.

Les Arries, a television consultant, is making the rounds trying to sell a heavyweight defense to the TV networks. The asking price is $200,000 with no opponent yet.

There was more than a hint Wednesday night that Jackson, the No. 1 contender in both Ring and National Boxing Assn. ratings, would be tough to sign.

"No offer has been made," said Lippe Breidbart, Jackson's manager. "In my opinion the match, properly promoted, should do a million dollars, plus $200,000 for television. My fellow is the attraction. He'll draw the people. His end should be about $200,000 and we want a guarantee."

Indians Win In 16 Innings

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Cleveland Indians played a 4½-hour marathon with the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night, winning 11-8 in 16 innings.

Rocky Colavito's single, scoring Gene Woodling, broke an 8-8 tie in the 16th inning. Singles by Chico Carrasquel, his third of the game, and George Strickland scored two more runs before the end.

The Indians collected 15 hits off pitchers Connie Johnson, Billy O'Dell, George Zuverink and Mike Fornieles, the loser.

Vic Wertz hit the only home run of the game in the third inning. He lofted one of Johnson's pitches 400 feet into the rightfield stands, scoring Woodling, who had walked.

Bob Lemon started for the Indians and was followed to the mound by Dick Tomanek, Ray Narleski, Don Mossi, Bud Daley, Mike Garcia and Cal McLish, the winner.

Kerby Farrell used 24 players and only Early Wynn, tonight's pitcher, Art Houtteman, Stan Pitula and the injured Roger Maris failed to play.

Both teams had three errors. Rookie catcher Russ Nixon made two of them. He also drove in two Indian runs with a sacrifice fly and a single.

All but six of the University of North Carolina baseball players come from the home state. Pitcher Jim Raugh is from Rosemont, Pa., and pitcher Dave Floyd is from Chattanooga, Tenn. Charles Aycock, Jim Marner, Danny Droze and Dick Reston are from Washington, D. C.

In 1956, there were 57 extra-inning games in the Southern Assn. The longest game went 16 innings.

Redleg, Chisox Hurlers Show High Caliber

Brooks Lawrence, Jim Wilson Make Believers Of Doubting Thomases

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitchers Jim Wilson of the Chicago White Sox and Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs finally are making believers out of the doubting Thomases.

It is strange that Wilson and Lawrence, despite generally effective pitching usually with mediocre ball clubs, rarely have impressed veteran observers.

Wilson, despite 33 victories, including a no-run, no-hit game, during the past three years, was not only traded off by two clubs—Milwaukee and Baltimore — but actually waived out of the National League.

Lawrence, bartered by St. Louis to Cincinnati despite winning 15 games in half a season a couple of years before, did not receive the acclaim he deserved last year when he won 19 games for the third place Redlegs. Although no other Cincinnati pitcher was able to win as many games, experts shrugged off his winning total as "just one of those things." They called him "lucky" because he failed to finish many of his starts.

Lawrence won his fourth game of the season Wednesday night, pitching Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia. The win boosted the Redlegs back into a tie with Milwaukee for the National League lead. The 22-year-old right hander permitted only five hits and fanned 11.

Wilson pitched Chicago to a 5-0 abling the White Sox to retain their first-place lead of half a game over the New York Yankees in the American League. The 35-year-old right-hander yielded only four hits en route to his second successive shuto u t and third of the season. Like Lawrence, his record is 4-1.

Effective pitching by Don Drysdale and Clem Labine and Don Zimmer's 10th-inning home run combined to give Brooklyn a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis defeated the New York Giants 6-5 in 14 innings when Hal Smith singled home Del Ennis from second.

Tom Sturdivant's five-hitter featured the Yankees' 3-0 shutout over Kansas City. Cleveland cracked five singles in the 16th inning off Mike Fornieles to score three times and defeat Baltimore 11-8 in a 4¾-hour marathon that involved 38 players, including 11 pitchers. Boston's Red Sox unleashed a 16-hit attack, their heaviest barrage of the season, to outslug the Detroit Tigers 11-8.

Zimmer's game-winning home run for Brooklyn came off Lew Burdette, who had relieved Milwaukee starter Gene Conley in the eighth. The Dodgers tied the score in that inning. Gil Hodges homered for Brooklyn.

Walt Dropo, Chicago's part-time first baseman, was the big offensive gun as the White Sox won their fourth straight. The big guy slammed his fourth homer in the sixth and singled across a run in the eighth.

All three Yankee runs were scored in the first inning. The victim was Ned Garver, who gave the Yankees only three hits in six innings.

Veteran first baseman Mickey Vernon drove in four runs and Jackie Jensen three in Boston's victory over Detroit. George Susce, third Boston pitcher, was the winner. Frank Lary lost it.

Reds Regain First Place Tie in NL

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are back in a first place tie with Milwaukee as the result of Wednesday night's 7-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

Wednesday night's hero was Brooks Lawrence. The husky right-hander, who some persons persist in calling "lucky", turned in his fourth complete pitching performance. He held the Phils to 5 hits and struck out 11.

Another bright spot in the Redleg picture was the first starting appearance of the year for catch-appearance of the year for catcher Smoky Burgess.

He had been sidelined with an injured ankle but blasted a home run in his first time at bat in a starting role.

Lawrence had a shaky start, as usual. The Phils got a run in the opening inning but that was all they got, though they had the bases filled with none out. After that, Lawrence was superb until the ninth when Ed Bouchee homered.

Meanwhile, the Reds tied the score in the first on a couple of walks and a single by George Crowe. Burgess' homer came in the second and it was followed by a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Johnny Temple for another run.

The Reds got two more in the sixth on a double by Wally Post and singles by Gus Bell, Frank Robinson, and Crowe. Roy McMillan's single, a sacrifice and Post's double scored one in the seventh. The Reds got their final marker in the eighth on a two-base error by Bob Bowman, Crowe's single and a sacrifice fly.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Fayette County Senior Activities in Full Swing

This is one of the most important times of the year for the seniors in the high schools in Fayette County; it is the time when they take the spotlight in their communities with their class nights, baccalaureate services and programs in which they are recognized for scholastic attainment and the commencements to climax their high school days.

The details may vary among the different schools, but the general pattern is about the same.

* * *

FRIDAY will be Recognition Day at Bloomingburg. At a special assembly in the auditorium that afternoon certificates will be awarded to those students who have achieved outstanding scholastic successes.

The seniors will be in charge of the chapel program, a part of which will be the presentation of awards by Principal G. H. Biddle.

There will be no Class Night, as such, at Bloomingburg, but many of the usual Class Night features are being worked into the achievement day program.

* * *

JEFFERSONVILLE High School's Class Night program will be presented May 23 in the school auditorium. Roger Mason will be the master of ceremonies. Carolyn Shepard will give the salutatory address, William Wilson the valedictory and Leroy Snyder the president's farewell address.

The program also will include the class will, history and prophecy, against a backdrop of special music, under the direction of Walter Hurd. Mrs. Margaret S. Dowler is the program director.

Because of a conflict with eighth grade promotion exercises, recognition for scholastic attainment will be given in home room programs this year instead of a recognition assembly. Principal Harry Phillips explained.

* * *

THE CLASS NIGHT program was held at Madison Mills High School Wednesday morning. It opened with the seniors filing in to the strains of the processional. "Pomp and Circumstance."

Following the prayer by Frances McCoy and a song by the students, Jean Webb delivered the salutatory address and Mary Jean Elliott gave the class history. Jean Rowland, the "class grouch," made her report and Ellen Belt delivered the valedictory. The class poem was read by Don Hanawalt.

The prophecy was read by Harvey McClary, the class will by Mike Swyers, and Donald Scaggs delivered the farewell address.

* * *

A GIFT of the class to the school — an electric clock for one of the class rooms— was presented by Carolyn Williams. It was accepted by Jane Belt.

A quartet composed of Mary Douglas, Mary Recob, Virginia Thompson and Carol Grim sang "Whispering Hope."

Jim Clark was the master of ceremonies.

Principal Robert Angus wished the seniors luck and success in the life ahead and gave them some idea of what to expect. He emphasized that their education will not end with the commencement and told them education goes on and on through life.

Recognition for scholastic achievement will be given to both the seniors and eighth graders at the combined commencement exercises.

* * *

THE Good Hope High School class night program was held following the Junior - Senior Banquet May 10 and again at the May 12 meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization.

Recognition will be given for scholastic attainment at the commencement, Principal Harold Thomas said. Awards will be presented not only for successes in the district - state tests, but also for the scholastic achievements in school classroom work all through high school.

Frozen Ducks Appear In U. S. Food Marts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Long Island ducks made their seasonal debut as a meat market special this week, adding to the list of choices open to housewives searching for a bargain.

Ready-to-cook frozen ducks now are available the year-'round, but the season for fresh duck is just getting under way. They're available for roasting, broiling or frying.

Beef and lamb also will be featured in many stores, although beef prices are no better than last week in many areas and lamb actually is higher in some places. Pork prices, as expected, are higher, with increases ranging up to six cents.

Eggs also are down this week, from two to eight cents, to the lowest prices in many years. Market men point out, however, that hens are passing their seasonal laying peak and prices should increase slowly.

Over the long run, egg men say, prices will tend to be higher than in recent months because the low cash return promped many farmers to trim their laying flocks.

Although the spring growing season is in full swing, the most outstanding vegetable buys in most areas continue to be found in the bins housing potatoes from last fall's Maine crop and such storage vegetables as topped carrots and parships.

Asparagus and spinach from nearby fields ar egood buys at this time of year, however, and may soon be crowding the others off the outstanding buy list.

Strawberries flooding the market from California, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland and Kentucky are the big news in the fruit department this week.

Another attraction is frozen orange juice, which is selling at 15 cents a six ounce can in some stores. The reason? Stocks of frozen concentrate held by Florida processors late last month were the largest in two years.

ATHENS (AP)—Mrs. Dow Finsterwald, wife of the professional golfer, today gave birth to twins—a 4 pound, 13 ounce boy and a 4 pound, 3 ounce girl.

Oil Drilling To Be Resumed Here Thursday

Drilling in the Kewanee Oil Co. test well on the Edwards Hopkins farm 2½ miles south of Washington C. H., is to be resumed at 3 p. m. Thursday.

The drill has been idle since Tuesday night while cement was hardening about the casing which had been placed in the first 194 feet of the well.

Barring a breakdown, the drilling will proceed without interruption, except to add drilling shaft, change bits, and other temporary halts, until the well is completed.

If necessary the well will be driven to granite rock, or 5,000 to 6,000 feet deep to establish whether oil and gas are under this area.

* * *

WHETHER the well is successful or not, other wells will be sunk at various points in the county to make a complete test, it is indicated.

The brilliantly lighted derrick attracts many visitors at night, and daytime visitors from a wide area are numerous.

Visitors are permitted to park in the field adjacent to the fence about the drilling rig, which is manned by experts in their line, most of them drillers of many years experience.

Haiti Sees Its Turmoil Grow Violent

Ten thousand farmers armed with knives blockaded the road to the capital to keep out food supplies. Arson and sabotage were increasing. The government said troops and police were battling armed demonstrators in many communities to put down "a state of terror."

Army headquarters said the situation was critical.

The capital itself remained comparatively quiet.

The seven-man Executive Council, which is supposed to be arranging for elections June 16, banned freedom of speech and muzzled the press, radio and judiciary in a desperate attempt to restore order.

The council, an interim government until a president can be elected, pledged again that free elections would be held.

Dr. Francois Duvalier, one of the leading candidates of the 10 seeking the presidency, declared the people were organizing to topple the government and install a provisional chief of staff who would guarantee free and honest elections.

Duvalier charges the council has rigged the voting in favor of his two chief opponents, Louis Dejoie and Daniel Fignole.

Boyd Unimpressive In Ring Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Boyd, who was bombed from the No. 2 middleweight ranking by Joey Giardello eight months ago, has a long way yet to go in his attempt to gain top contention.

The lanky, 23-year-old Chicagoan, was not too impressive Wednesday night in winning his third straight fight since the Giardello incident with a split 10-round decision over Willie Vaughn.

Boyd, whose 43 victories in 52 bouts includes 22 kayoes, displayed little of the punching power that took him to the top before Giardello pulverized him in five rounds at Cleveland.

Tax Stamp Receipts Up

Business is doing better here now than it is in most surrounding counties, according to sales tax stamp receipts.

Figures for the week of April 28 to May 4 show that Fayette County stamp sales were greater that week than they were the same week a year ago.

But in all but one of six surrounding counties, the comparative figures show a drop. Only Madison County showed a rise about the same as the rise here.

At the same time, only one county in the area—Madison, again—did better than Fayette County on comparative figures for the two fiscal years to date.

* * *

FIGURES show that Fayette County had tax receipts totalling $9,746.17 for the week ending May 4. For the week ending May 5, 1956, total was only $8,411.41.

Madison County's figures for the same weeks were $8,616.74 for 1957 and $7,951.33 for 1956.

Total sales in Fayette County from the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1956, to May 4, 1957, were $375,322.60. Sales from July 1, 1955 to May 5, 1956, were just a shade more—$375,941.68.

Sales tax stamp sales are considered by many businessmen to be an adequate measure of business activity.

SALESMEN for the Carroll Halliday Ford agency are dividing up a cash award of $750, first prize in a five-state sales contest.

The Halliday agency topped 22 dealers in a selected group in cities of comparable size in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia during April with sales of 26 new Ford cars and trucks.

Responsible for the prize-winning April sales figure were David T. Ogan, sales manager; Coyt Anderson, Robert Giddings, Jack Kellough, Robert Cannon and William Haines.

A PROGRAM of safety education, aimed at curbing the high accident rate amoung youthful males, has been started by the Nationwide Insurance Co. for all policy holders in its high - premium "single male, under 25," group.

Each young man in that group is required to attend one session of the program, in order to keep his insurance.

The program was started by Nationwide, on a national level, because high premiums seemed to be of little or no help in curbing the high accident rates in that group, Luke Roberts, Nationwide Agent here, explained.

Sessions, held monthly, are usually conducted by local agents along with a state highway patrolman, a city policeman and, if possible, a driver training instructor, Roberts said.

Fayette County Senior Activities in Full Swing

This is one of the most important times of the year for the seniors in the high schools in Fayette County; it is the time when they take the spotlight in their communities with their class nights, baccalaureate services. and programs in which they are recognized for scholastic attainment and the commencements to climax their high school days.

The details may vary among the different schools, but the general pattern is about the same.

* * *

FRIDAY will be Recognition Day at Bloomingburg. At a special assembly in the auditorium that afternoon certificates will be awarded to those students who have achieved outstanding scholastic successes.

The seniors will be in charge of the chapel program, a part of which will be the presentation of awards by Principal G. H. Biddle.

There will be no Class Night, as such, at Bloomingburg, but many of the usual Class Night features are being worked into the achievement day program.

* * *

JEFFERSONVILLE High School's Class Night program will be presented May 23 in the school auditorium. Roger Mason will be the master of ceremonies. Carolyn Shepard will give the salutatory address, William Wilson the valedictory and Leroy Snyder the president's farewell address.

The program also will include the class will, history and prophecy, against a backdrop of special music, under the direction of Walter Hurd. Mrs. Margaret S. Dowler is the program director.

Because of a conflict with eighth grade promotion exercises, recognition for scholastic attainment will be given in home room programs this year instead of a recognition assembly. Principal Harry Phillips explained.

* * *

THE CLASS NIGHT program was held at Madison Mills High School Wednesday morning. It opened with the seniors filing in to the strains of the processional. "Pomp and Circumstance."

Following the prayer by Frances McCoy and a song by the students, Jean Webb delivered the salutatory address and Mary Jean Elliott gave the class history. Jean Rowland, the "class grouch," made her report and Ellen Belt delivered the valedictory. The class poem was read by Don Hanawalt.

The prophecy was read by Harvey McClary, the class will by Mike Swyers, and Donald Scaggs delivered the farewell address.

* * *

A GIFT of the class to the school — an electric clock for one of the class rooms— was presented by Carolyn Williams. It was accepted by Jane Belt.

A quartet composed of Mary Douglas, Mary Recob, Virginia Thompson and Carol Grim sang "Whispering Hope."

Jim Clark was the master of ceremonies.

Principal Robert Angus wished the seniors luck and success in the life ahead and gave them some idea of what to expect. He emphasized that their education will not end with the commencement and told them education goes on and on through life.

Recognition for scholastic achievement will be given to both the seniors and eighth graders at the combined commencement exercises.

* * *

THE Good Hope High School class night program was held following the Junior - Senior Banquet May 10 and again at the May 12 meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization.

Recognition will be given for scholastic attainment at the commencement, Principal Harold Thomas said. Awards will be presented not only for successes in the district - state tests, but also for the scholastic achievements in school classroom work all through high school.

Frozen Ducks Appear In U. S. Food Marts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Long Island ducks made their seasonal debut as a meat market special this week, adding to the list of choices open to housewives searching for a bargain.

Ready-to-cook frozen ducks now are available the year-'round, but the season for fresh duck is just getting under way. They're available for roasting, broiling or frying.

Beef and lamb also will be featured in many stores, although beef prices are no better than last week in many areas and lamb actually is higher in some places. Pork prices, as expected, are higher, with increases ranging up to six cents.

Eggs also are down this week, from two to eight cents, to the lowest prices in many years. Market men point out, however, that hens are passing their seasonal laying peak and prices should increase slowly.

Over the long run, egg men say, prices will tend to be higher than in recent months because the low cash return promped many farmers to trim their laying flocks.

Although the spring growing season is in full swing, the most outstanding vegetable buys in most areas continue to be found in the bins housing potatoes from last fall's Maine crop and such storage vegetables as topped carrots and parships.

Asparagus and spinach from nearby fields ar egood buys at this time of year, however, and may soon be crowding the others off the outstanding buy list.

Strawberries flooding the market from California, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland and Kentucky are the big news in the fruit department this week.

Another attraction is frozen orange juice, which is selling at 15 cents a six ounce can in some stores. The reason? Stocks of frozen concentrate held by Florida processors late last month were the largest in two years.

Oil Drilling To Be Resumed Here Thursday

Drilling in the Kewanee Oil Co. test well on the Edwards Hopkins farm 2½ miles south of Washington C. H., is to be resumed at 3 p. m. Thursday.

The drill has been idle since Tuesday night while cement was hardening about the casing which had been placed in the first 194 feet of the well.

Barring a breakdown, the drilling will proceed without interruption, except to add drilling shaft, change bits, and other temporary halts, until the well is completed.

If necessary the well will be driven to granite rock, or 5,000 to 6,000 feet deep to establish whether oil and gas are under this area.

* * *

WHETHER the well is successful or not, other wells will be sunk at various points in the county to make a complete test, it is indicated.

Visitors are permitted to park in the field adjacent to the fence about the drilling rig, which is manned by experts in their line, most of them drillers of many years experience.

Farmhand,19, Freed In Fatal Shooting

NAPOLEON (AP)—Larry Simon, a 19-year - old McClure farmhand, was released Wednesday after taking a lie detector test in the fatal shooting of William Blannett, 93.

Both Blannett and Simon lived at the Irvin Amos farm. Blannett was killed last Monday by a revolver shot in the neck as he sat on a porch.

Sheriff Fred Bartels said Simon explained that he thought the safety on the revolver was locked and did not see Blannett on the porch when he pulled the trigger.

Haiti Sees Its Turmoil Grow Violent

Ten thousand farmers armed with knives blockaded the road to the capital to keep out food supplies. Arson and sabotage were increasing. The government said troops and police were battling armed demonstrators in many communities to put down "a state of terror."

Army headquarters said the situation was critical.

The capital itself remained comparatively quiet.

The seven-man Executive Council, which is supposed to be arranging for elections June 16, banned freedom of speech and muzzled the press, radio and judiciary in a desperate attempt to restore order.

The council, an interim government until a president can be elected, pledged again that free elections would be held.
